NORWAY VICINITY

Mrs. Dorothea Horr is ill with a cold and an attack of heart trouble.

Alonzo Hanley of Gorham, N. H., is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Arsene Bennett and family, this week.

Miss Ella Decoteau of Auburn and Miss Antonie Decoteau of Portland spent Easter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Decoteau of Winter St.

Mrs. Freeland E. Adams returned to her home at Grand View Farm, in Norway after spending the Easter holiday with Mrs. L. F. Adams of Portland.

A freeze hydrant opposite A. G. Parsons' barber shop received electric treatment and was thawed out, Tuesday. This was then the only hydrant found frozen this winter.

Ten members of the N. N. Club and several guests met at the home of Mrs. Alice Blaquiere, Tuesday evening, Apr. 6. A social evening was enjoyed with three tables of "63." Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. Next meeting is with Mrs. Mary Rich, Tuesday evening, April 13.

The Inter-Church Basket Ball League closes Tuesday evening at 7:30 with the Universalist and Congregational quintets in a final struggle at Norway high school gym. The Universalist team is undefeated and the Congregationalists have dropped only one game. Under these conditions a lively time is anticipated for there is a wholesome rivalry.

Winfield Allen is moving into the Joseph Morrell house opposite the Congregational Church. Mr. Allen bought the premises some months ago, after Mr. Morrell decided to move from town. The Allens were former owners, having sold to Mr. Morrell.

Miss Olive Stone, a teacher of French and English, in the high school at Cato, N. Y., arrived Sunday and will return on Friday. She is visiting with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Stone.

Rev. O. H. Tracy, D. D., is suffering with eye trouble that is yielding slowly to treatment. If he is unable to preach at Norway and South Paris on Sunday morning, a supply will be provided for both churches.

The April meeting of the Ladies' Farm Bureau will be held Friday, April 16, at Grange Hall, this to be the spring millinery meeting. Members who have material will assist the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Gladys Page, if they will have their material cleansed and pressed. The pastel shades will be used this season in preference to the bright colors of the past season. Dinner will be served at noon.

Miss Margaret Skillings of Bolsters Mills is clerking at the A. L. Clerk Drug Store. She commenced work last Monday.

The lake opened last year on April 14, but several old timers have set the last week in April for the big event. Others more optimistic think sometime from the 20th and 22nd will mark the disappearance of the ice sheet.

Nineteen babies received attention at the free clinic conducted two days last week in the grange hall. Another clinic will be held there in May, when Miss Clara Bicker, R. N., will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Luck entertained at a dinner party Thursday evening, at their home on Pleasant Street. The table settings were in yellow and the room was lighted with yellow candles. The centerpiece was yellow jonquils and the place cards were dainty yellow creations, while the favors were lavender nut baskets decorated with yellow chickens. The evening was devoted to bridge. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Angrow, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Packard, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Scott L. Kilborn and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen O. Jellerson.

Miss Mildred J. Holmes, who has been at Southern Pines, N. C., during the winter, returned home Saturday evening and is stopping with her aunt, Mrs. H. L. Horne.

Philip M. Everett, who is working in the Cushman shoe shop at Auburn, spent the week end at home with his family.

Mrs Perley May has been spending a few days with her friend, Mrs. Austin Miller in Portland.

Emery Wentzen, a bright lad of 16, called at our office recently. We were surprised to learn that he was a student at Gould's Academy and a resident of Norway. Why he should omit the high school here and go there at greatly increased expense is unaccountable. The lad said he guessed it was because the school in Bethel had better control over him than the school here. Is it possible that an academy has better control over a growing young man than his parents and the school where he lives?

"Old Fred" is dead and moved off the stage after twenty-one years' active service. "Old Fred" was the horse owned by G. Oscar Bennett the past five years, and a familiar object on the streets. For eleven years the horse was a member of the group at O. M. Cummings' livery stable and has a record mileage against all comers.

One year ago this week—snow gone, good wheeling over country roads, some brook fishing, Mayflower buds in the home, baseball practice, and frog music.

Ralph "Jake" Andrews is a clerk at the grocery store of Jackson-Greenlaw Co.

Among the college students home for Easter were Willis Hasty, Bowdoin; Stephen J. Cummings, Boston University; June Smith, Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass.; Gladys Barker, Gorham Normal School; Beatrice Drake, Farmington Normal School; Laurestine L. Foster, Smith College, and Elizabeth Hall, Bates College.

Another snow storm arrived Saturday night, covering everything to the depth of six inches. The sidewalk plow was used Sunday morning. In spite of slush the Easter services at the churches attracted large congregations, both morning and evening. The temperature fell at night making traveling rough and bumpy for Monday, but restored the sledding that was disappearing in the village.

MELLIE-GRAMS

Seven Weeks More Writes Mellie Dunham

This week he is at Youngstown, Ohio, and next week will return to the 105th Street Theatre, Cleveland. It is for the opening of Keith's Million Dollar Play House and then to Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Planting Time Calls Him

"One week more passed. Weeks slip by and planting time will soon reach Maine and the seed must be put in the ground for the harvest even on Crockett Ridge, Norway. How fast they go! Yet everyone brings new scenes, new friends and incidentally a "pay day". We have had a cold rough week, but not nearly as bad as they have had in many places around us. Much damage has been done north, west and south of us. We are both well. We go to Youngstown next week.

The theatre people had a baked bean contest and Gram and I had to judge them. The winner gets $50.00. Then they carried them out to a hospital for crippled children. We went too and I played a few pieces for the kids. One that I played was "Cincinnati Hornpipe". The children thought it was fine so did the people in the Armory at Lewiston last October. Our act is going well.

We have met Marion and Fred Noble and Frank Barron here in town, formerly of Norway. We do not see very much of the country we pass through as most of our trips are made in the night, but we have some daylight journeys, which are very interesting. Several of the people in our act have been into Kentuck, which is only a short distance away. I didn't go. Neither did Gram. Regards to all.

Cincinnati, April 2, '26. Mellie.

Mellie's Home Song

Tune "Home Sweet Home"
I've traveled near, I've traveled far,
I'm weary ofteawhile;
But having started I must keep
Apace, and wear a smile.
Sometimes the yearning in my heart,
My old home town to see,
Is almost more than I can bear,
But patient I must be.
I'm getting nearer every day,
My last and final act;
Then Gram and I will ticket buy,
And have our suit-case packed.
The joy of viewing my home-town,
God grant I see it soon;
And when its borders I have reached,
It's Home Sweet Home my tune.

Chorus

Home, Home, my old home town;
It never looked so sweet before,
Now Gram, we'll settle down.

—JENNIE LIND ALLEN.

112 Union Ave., Old Orchard, daughter of an old fiddler.

Mellie is a Giant at the Buick Co.

Mellie Dunham with his faithful fiddle is posing in the window at the Norway Buick Co. It is not our Mellie in the flesh, but a good reproduction some eight feet in height, the work of a scenic artist. A photograph was enlarged and painted in colors, on wall board, then cut out to make a full length statue. A lighting effect has been worked out by Ned Burnell, which sets the figure off to advantage. The statue was for publicity in theatre lobbies and presented to Mellie at Washington, D. C. Nate Noble, his son-in-law, is caretaker of the gift until Mellie returns.

National Music News Service of Cincinnati says: "His faith in the goodness of human beings has been reinforced by his traveling about the country, "Grandpa Mellie" Dunham, champion fiddler of Maine, in Cincinnati to present his vaudeville act, has confided to friends here.

"Folks are the same as they always was," the stockily-built old fiddler said, as he exhibited a solid silver watch which had been slipped into his hand by "a friend" one night as he left the wings of the stage, he said. "They'll be good to you if you're good to them, but you can't expect to be treated fairly if you don't do the same thing."

"The aged fiddler's eyes filled with tears as he described to officials of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company, while he was a guest there, that he would "never forget the kindness of Henry Ford to my wife and me. He treated me in a princely manner. Nobody could have been treated better."

Asked about the dash of Charleston in his act, "Grandpa Mellie" said he could not do it "very well, because when I was young, I was learning to fiddle while most young folks were learning to jig. My wife says my dancing reminds her of a horse tied to a post he don't like. I'd rather fiddle than do the Charleston any day."

During his visit to the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company here, "Grandpa Mellie" posed for a photographer with genuine good humor; holding a high-priced rare violin from the Wurlitzer collection in characteristic poise.

Guy Herrick received a paper from Youngstown, Ohio, saying Mellie was warmly received there by a serenade. There are thirty people with him and they were putting on three shows, one in the forenoon, afternoon, and evening.

CAUTION AND SICK WHEELING

D. M. French, General Manager and big boss of the Leonard Packing Co., at Pittsfield, N. H., write us.

He says he shall come here when "the wheeling gets better." Just as though the wheeling was sick and he waiting for its recovery!

We are waiting for him at the Wearies, where he refused to play cards after he was appointed deputy sheriff. Had Sheriff Cummings of Augusta been similarly cautious he might have avoided trouble and first page newspaper publicity.

The marriage of Samuel B. Stuart of Norway and Mabel E. Kinney of Phillips took place at the Methodist parsonage in Norway, Saturday at 6:30 p. m. The officiating clergyman, Rev. N. R. Pearson performed the single ring service. They will make their home in Norway.

Word was received from Portland, Thursday, concerning the condition of John Haselton, who is at the St. Barnabas Hospital. "Uncle" John is resting comfortably, the amputation of his leg will not be necessary at present.

Angleworms and a lot of them have been found in a flower pot in our house. They are alive and squirming. The discovery was made in the recent transplanting of a plant. Wonder how they got there? We know, but won't let on.

Mrs. Charles Libby went to North Newry to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. Percy Walker, while Mr. Walker is in New York on business.

The Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club met Thursday at the Congregational Church. Perley F. Ripley spoke on his recent trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Katherine Jones of New York and Miss Mary Jones from the Maine School of Commerce, are the guests of their father, Judge William F. Jones, Pleasant street, during the Easter vacation.

Barnyard Golf Coming With the Birds

Barnyard golf, otherwise pitching horseshoes is being revived and a summer campaign is being planned. An association exists in Oxford County affiliated with the state and national organization with some fifty members.

South Paris leads this section with a bunch of champions at the Mason Manufacturing Co. and other good tossers scattered throughout the village. The sport has a strong hold in that town and Norway is not far behind with a delegation of hurlers. Oxford is another likely town with several extra good shoe men.

Plans indicate a lively summer with matches and tournaments reaching out to Auburn and other pitching centers. It is possible lanes may be made on the fair grounds early in the season, where the sport can be enjoyed during the summer and matches held at the Oxford County's big show in September.

Whatever goes, it is certain that barnyard golf is the coming sport up this way and has already developed championship material.

INTER-CHURCH BASKET BALL GAMES

The Norway Universalists had an easy time with the South Paris Baptists at the gym, Tuesday night. "Runt" Towne dazed the small audience with his sensational shots from mid-court. The Norway Congo also won their game at Paris by the score of 34-17, thus not changing the league standing. The last game in the schedule next Friday night, between the Universalists and Congregationalists should prove a thriller. League standing:

DIETETICAL TRY OUTS

John Woodman is careful of eating, sort of reducing weight. No need of it, as he is just right now and good looking.

Someone recently told him about calories or choloric in food and that 1400 was a dose. He adopted the system and gave it a painstaking try-out, resulting in an increase of 3 pounds in seven days.

The system was abandoned and he is now running on the black hat and vitamine plan and has not yet reported.

His friends wait results with interest as the fishing season is late and whittling timber nearly exhausted.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sanborn Shoe Shop Co. and the Norway Shoe Shop Co. was held Tuesday evening at the Municipal Court room. Reports of the officers were read and the following officers were elected for both companies:

Pres.—S. B. Cummings.
V. Pres.—J. N. Favor.
Treas.—P. Y. Fogg.
Clerk—R. S. Osgood.
Directors—H. F. Andrews, E. N. Swett, E. S. Cummings.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

Lake Temple, Pythian Sisters will have their roll call supper at the next meeting, April 20. Supper will be served at 6:45. Committee in charge are:

Sadie Lapham	Ida Everett
Beatrice Smith	Esther Lapham
Florence Fanef	Alta Hall
Myrtle Currier	Addie Lovejoy
Gertrude Mattor	Ed. Thompson
Nina Pelt	Fred Swan
Mary Kimball	Wm. Smith

After supper there will be the regular meeting and both degrees, ladies' and gentlemen's will be worked on a class of twelve candidates.

Mrs. B. F. Bradbury has returned from Lewiston, where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. Leroy Luce and grandson, Peyson Lee Luce. Both mother and child are doing well.

Word has been received from California that Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Gibson, former Norway residents and their son, Leslie Gibson and family are soon moving from Visalia to Roseville, a new town of 7,000 inhabitants, where they will open a shoe store, as there is none in the place. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harriman will move into the Gibson house.

Wilson Walker will not tear down the bakery building as planned, but will move the building onto another lot, and may be refitted as a bake shop.

Annual inspection of Co. C, 103 Infantry was conducted Monday night by Capt. Wright, a regular army officer from Ayer, Mass. Everything was found in excellent condition.

Wants to Be Governor of the State of Maine

WM. TUDOR GARDINER of Gardiner

Speaker of the Maine House of Representatives at its last session

He is a good looker, good actor and a good talker, and is said to be safely grounded in all the present day Republican principles and policies including prohibition, publicity and the water power question.

What more is needed?

Pyramid Parties

After spring housecleaning and street cleaning there will evidently be a grand rush of Pyramid parties. At the present time, there is a lull owing evidently to the above named causes.

One that was omitted from publication in the Advertiser was that of Mrs. Nellie Goodwin's, when she entertained a group of four and two for a pleasant evening with "63". She served a dainty lunch. Her guests were Mrs. Etta Lebroke, Mrs. Maud Spiller, Mrs. Lida Drake, Mrs. Mildred Nevers, Mrs. Merle Brown and Mrs. Eva Anderson.

Mrs. Homer R. Luck was hostess, Friday afternoon, April 2, entertaining a group of four for a social afternoon and she served five o'clock tea. Her guests were Mrs. Elgin Greenleaf, Mrs. Arthur Herrick, Miss Dorothy Noble and Mrs. George F. Hathaway.

Mrs. Ella Partridge entertained a group of four at her home at Norway Lake, Friday afternoon, April 2, and this was observed as "Mothers' Day", each guest bringing her little one. Mrs. Daniel Dullea, Mrs. Ben Tucker, Mrs. Howard Bennett and Mrs. Alfred Snow made up the mothers and the babies kept things interesting. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Miss Mary Favor gave her group of three a theatre party Saturday evening, entertaining them at the Rex. These included the Misses Thurley Tucker, Madelyn Burgess and Catherine Drake.

Miss Harriett C. Knight entertained her guests at a theatre party at the Rex, Tuesday afternoon, these including Mrs. B. G. McIntire, Mrs. Carl Foss, Mrs. Percy H. Nevers and Miss Mildred J. Holmes.

Mrs. Lucy Kilgore entertained two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, for her Pyramid party.

Miss Hazel E. Bicknell will have a millinery sale at the Cole-Marsden store at Gray, Wednesday and Thursday.

E. Ray Frost has a busy time keeping up with his orders for bird houses and feeding stations. He operates a shop at his home on Tyler Street in Oxford Park, where bird houses containing from one to thirty-two rooms are made according to government specifications, but the designs are original. The architecture varies from a simple bungalow style to Queen Ann cottage and apartment house type. They must certainly be attractive to birds and ornamental to the premises. Mr. Frost also makes arbors in a number of styles.

Obituary

Charles Daniel Herrick

After a long period of failing health, Charles D. Herrick of Norway passed away Saturday, April 3, at his home, following a shock early in the week. His age was 70 years, 5 months, 1 day.

He was born in Norway, Oct. 2, 1855, the son of Henry and Ruth Leach Herrick. His early life was spent in Greenwood, and for ten years resided in Paris, being employed at the Paris Manufacturing Co. He purchased a farm in Norway in 1892 which he carried on until 1923 when his second wife died and he sold the place and moved to the village.

Mr. Herrick married Miss Ellen Burrows in 1879. Ten years later she died, leaving three children. On May 18, 1891 he married Miss Mary E. Haskell, who passed away November 15, 1923.

Mr. Herrick was a republican and had been affiliated with the Methodists and Congregationalists. He was not a member of any fraternal order.

The deceased leaves three children by the first marriage, Guy B. Herrick, Norway; Mrs. F. E. Maskell, Portland; L. S. Herrick, Charleston, S. C.; a daughter, Cora, died in infancy. Two sons by the second marriage are living, F. Virgil Herrick and Charles J. Herrick of Sanford. Carroll G. Herrick was killed in France, Oct. 7, 1918, during the World War, and Henry died in infancy. He leaves a brother, Edward Herrick, and a sister, Mrs. Opha Ring, both of West Paris, also two grandchildren, Edith F. Maskell of Portland and Rose Ellen Herrick of Sanford.

Services were held at Spiller's Funeral Home, Tuesday, at 2 p. m., attended by Rev. Olin B. Tracy of the Congregational Church. The bearers were F. Virgil Herrick, Charles J. Herrick, F. E. Maskell and Wallace Merrill. The remains were placed in the tomb at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery for burial there.

Guy N. Carter

Guy N. Carter of Revere, Mass., passed away at a hospital in Lynn, Mass., Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, April 7. He underwent an operation for appendicitis on the previous Wednesday and failed to rally. His age was 41 years, 6 months and 24 days.

Mr. Carter was born in Norway, Sept. 13, 1884, the son of George W. and Hattie Edwards Carter. He was educated in the high school and was shoemaker in the B. F. Spinney & Co. factory before moving to Massachusetts. For some years he was connected with the United Shoe Machinery Co., and had manufactured shoes. He was a member of several Masonic bodies.

He leaves his widow, who was Miss Lura Chase of South Paris, and three children, Clara, Esther and George, also his mother, who resides in Norway; an aunt, Mrs. Austin Hutchinson of Waterford, and one uncle, John W. Carter of Auburn.

The remains will be brought to Norway Saturday evening, for the services to be held at Spiller's Funeral Home, Sunday, at 2 p. m. Interment at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery.

Louis Albion Alexander

Louis A. Alexander of Waterbury, Conn., pased away in that city Sunday, April 4, after a surgical operation. His age was 64 years.

Mr. Alexander spent a vacation in Norway with his sister, Mrs. Eugene F. Smith, some three years ago, at the cottage at Lake Pennesseewassee, and made many acquaintances.

He had been inspector and manager of a department of the Waterbury Brass and Iron Company for many years.

Mr. Alexander leaves two sons, Newton W., and Louis Jr., both of Connecticut. Two sisters and one brother also survive: Mrs. Ela Odiorne of Richmond, Me., and Mrs. Smith of Norway, and Joseph Alexander of Richmond.

BENEFIT DANCE FOR JOHN HASELTON

Plans are underway for a benefit dance at Norway Opera House for John Haselton of Westbrook, formerly of Norway. "Uncle" John is at the St. Barnabas Hospital in Portland for treatment. It is feared the amputation of a leg may be necessary and that his stay there may be of long duration.

A host of Norway friends will cooperate in any movement to assist "Uncle" John in his hour of need. A dance is suggested as a means to raise a substantial gift to honor a former townsman who in years past has done so much for the social life of Norway. All can help when the tickets are offered and without doubt, the response will be spontaneous.

Nothing can cheer a fellow so much as to know his friends never forget, and are behind him with something substantial when misfortune comes.

For many years "Uncle" John, the famous dancing master, has been a true friend to Norway and a booster for the town; now we can show our appreciation with deeds that speak louder than words.

Judge W. F. Jones, manager of the Opera House has offered the use of the hall free and Walter S. Stearns, who has played violin at many of "Uncle" John's dances is organizing an orchestra for the occasion. The musicians have freely offered their services as a contribution to the worthy cause.

High School Notes

President Greenleaf called a meeting of the Athletic Association, Wednesday morning for the purpose of electing a manager of basket ball for the coming year. Vincent Ashton was elected by a large vote.

Mildred Taylor, N. H. S. '25 visited the high school on Friday.

The agricultural department has received two hundred baby chicks from a hatchery in Ohio.

Evelyn Gilman has been ill and unable to attend school the past week.

The school has voted to award letters for debating and other school activities.

The first sale of sandwiches for this term was held Tuesday at recess. Another sale will be held April 8.

The following typewriting students got awards during the month of March:

Alumni 25; N. H. S. 19

The high school lost the final game of the season to the Alumni by the score of 25-19. The high school kept close on the heels of the Alumni the first and second quarters ending in ties but in the third quarter the Alumni got under way and piled up a large margin which the High School was not able to overcome in the final quarter. CHICKEN PROJECT IS GOING STRONG

At present the chick raising project is the big study at the Aggie department of Norway High School.

About 400 lively chicks occupy the brooder house and are under the care of the class. Mr. Brown, the instructor, has 100 R. I. Reds, a few days old, from a strain in Cleveland, Ohio. Alfred Dyer, proprietor of Red Bird Farm, Norway, presented 100 eggs to the class and 70 lively chicks have developed. Mr. Brown proposes to cross the cockerels of the Dyer strain with the pullets of the Ohio pen. The cockerels from that mating will be crossed back with the government strain represented in Mr. Dyer's birds. This will be carried out for the project next spring.

In the brooder house Clayton Hall is growing 100 white wyandotte chicks from Cleveland. In addition, Mr. Brown has 150 chicks representing the Jackson strain of Reds.

The incubator is working on the third hatch. Mark Smith, Mrs. Smith and Howard Smith have 200 eggs, Donald Richardson has 155 and Theodore Frost has furnished 30. The machine was started last Saturday and will complete the work for the season.

The first hatch came off March 10 and a strict account kept in detail. At the end of sixteen days Howard Decoster carried home 58 strong chicks from 81 fertile eggs; Alpheus Jackson had 134 lively chicks from 186 fertile eggs. Mr. Brown secured 14 birds from 20 eggs. Several small consignments in the hatch netted good returns. The hatch gave 76 per cent average.

The cost sheet for the foregoing project is interesting and commences at the brooder house, covering a period of sixteen days. Electric heat, average per day, 4 kw, or 32c per day. Grain and sour milk, .025 per chicken per day. Result, averaged 2.8 chickens to make one pound at end of the test.

The figures are based on 214 chicks about half the capacity of the brooder.

PRESIDENT OF MAINE FEDERATION WILL SPEAK

Mrs. Anna C. Witherle of Castine, president of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs will speak in Community Hall, Friday, April 9 at 3 p. m. This meeting is under the auspices of the Norway Women's Club and is open to all ladies whether or not members of the local organization. Mrs. Witherle is a charming speaker and will present many interesting and helpful things.

The Norway Women's Club recently organized, has fifty charter members with the list steadily increasing as the charter will remain open until May 11.

Its object is to promote the spirit of good fellowship, helpfullness among the women of the town and the advancement of all larger civic betterments.

VERANDA CLUB

The Veranda Club which was to meet with Mrs. Ida Gammon met at the home of Mrs. Virgalyn Murdock, as Mrs. Gammon was unable to entertain on Thursday evening, April 1. The president furnished a nice lunch, which was served after the business meeting. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Eva Fogg, Thursday evening, April 15.

The benefit card party was held at the home of Mrs. Virgalyn Murdock, Saturday evening, with three tables at play, the hostess invited the party to the dining room where a very attractive lunch was served.

The next card party will meet at the home of Mrs. Agnes McCready, Saturday evening, April 10.

MISTAKE IN IDENTITY AT STATION

A. E. Forbes of the Oxford Democrat writes as follows: "I met a man at the depot the other day and he gave me a dollar and wanted me to send him the Advertiser and in conversation, I discovered he had taken me for you—as others have in the past. I told him I'd send it to you, so here it is: 'Frank A. Brown, Rt. 2, Bethel, Me.' " One dollar for 6 months subscription."

Mrs. Roy Snow and children spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen at North Paris.

Mrs. Ralph Kneeland and son, Walter of Melrose, Mass., are spending the week wth her mother, Mrs. Emma Mann.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

BOARD OF TRADE WILL DO PUBLICITY STUNT

Advertising Paris was the key note at the meeting of the Board of Trade, Friday evening, when nearly one hundred members and invited guests gathered in Odd Fellows dining hall to enjoy a banquet and afterward listen to several speakers.

The banquet served by the Rebekahs was a success as were the songs with Mrs. Ida Neal at the piano.

Robert W. Wheeler, president of the Board of Trade presided. The first speaker, Clarence G. Morton, referred to the revival of interest in this community organization in which eating and good fellowship is a common medium of public service open to all.

Dr. D. M. Stewart, chairman of the soliciting committee for the library reported progress in the campaign for donations. At present there is $200 less than $20,000 in the fund, but the full amount is reasonably sure.

A. B. Garcelon of Bangor, formerly superintendent of schools in Paris expressed his interest in the progress of the community and cautioned against dissipating energies by a multiplicity of interests.

Perley F. Ripley, who was asked to report on the matter of tarring a portion of the street in the center of the village was in doubt about its practicability under present conditions, but a man from the state highway department will be here to look into the matter.

L. C. Minor, field secretary of the Maine Publicity Bureau talked interestingly on publicity as concerning the town of Maine and splendid results obtained through the co-operation of the bureau.

Alton C. Wheeler, as one of the local publicity committee outlined some of the projects as guideboards, road signs and phamphlets.

J. Harold Neal, chairman of the local publicity committee advocating amending the guide boards in Market Square, which should be done by the town. Mr. Neal had samples of wooden arrows marked South Paris to be posted on strategic points over a radius of twenty-five miles and more. He suggested that about one hundred could be used to advantage, each costing one dollar. Two sign boards about six by eight feet were proposed, also from three to five thousand copies of a small illustrated pamphlet would be useful. The budget for this advertising amunition would total about $300.

A vote was carried to authorize the finance committee to find the money and the publicity committee to spend it. It was voted that each member of the board pay two dollars this year, one each for annual dues and publicity.

Fire Alarm Boxes

Tentative location for fifteen fire alarm boxes have been selected in accordance with population, property to be protected and availability. There may be numerous changes before they are permanently located.

No. 1. Market Square. Unanimous location.

No. 2. Corner of Main street and Skillings Avenue. This covers a residential territory where fires are likely to occur from the railroad.

No. 3. Corner of Main street and Pine street This box accommodates the Mason Manufacturing Co., the depot property and the Ripley & Fletcher Co. property, as well as the court house property. It has been suggested that this box might be located at the junction of Western Avenue and Main street more nearly opposite the Ripley & Fletcher Co. garage.

No. 4. Corner of Main street and Gary street. This box accommodates the Walker property, the corn shop and some extensive residential property.

No. 5. Corner of Main street and Charles street. This box accommodates the Catholic church, the Oxford County Agricultural Society and a wide residential district.

No. 6. Corner of Charles street and Gary street. This box accommodates Oxford Park district.

No. 7. Corner of Pine street and Briggs Avenue, so called. This box covers the est residential street and the large public investment at the high school building.

No. 8. Corner of Church street and Gothic street. This location was chosen to cover the streets running in four directions in the main residential portion of the village.

No. 9. Corner of Gothic street and Western Avenue. This box covers the territory which has never had but a very small amount of protection by telephone.

No. 10. Corner of East Main street and Oxford street. This covers at least three streets.

No. 11. Corner of Hill street and Brook street. This covers the foundry district, Kenney's mill and is available from several different streets.

No. 12. Corner of High street and Spring street. This would be available for the whole of lower High street and he section across the park.

No. 13. Corner of High street and Penley street. This takes care of the upper section of High street in a satisfactory manner, but could be put slightly farther up High street if the development is expected to increase rapidly on Woodland Park.

No. 14. Corner of Nichols street and Western Avenue. This would protect the Paris Manufacturing Co. and the residences on Nichols street.

No. 15. Corner of Park street, Wheeler street and Porter street.

Sometime in May, W. S. Culbert is to give a demonstration of his super-smokeless hot air furnace, in the public square.

Mrs. Frank S. Chandler returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred P. Chandler at Auburn, Tuesday after visiting for several weeks with her son, W. S. Chandler and family.

A spot dance will be featured at the grange hall next Saturday evening. Prizes will be given. Shaw's Syncopators will furnish music.

Candidates for high school baseball are set for outdoor practise when snow leaves the athletic field. There has been no team work as yet and scheduled games are not two weeks ahead. This fate is common to all schools in this section of Maine.

Miss Rachel Turner, assistant in the Registry of Deeds office is visiting her mother, Mrs. Adelaide Turner at Leeds this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Clark have gone to Washington, D. C., to visit their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Clark. They plan to be away two or three weeks. Miss Mary Dwinal of Mechanic Falls is with Mrs. Sarah Clark during their absence.

A. French Stevens has purchased the radio shop in Association block of Raymond Dunham and will run a drug store in the same block but exchange rooms with Perkins & French the barbers. Mr. Dunham will store his radios in the basement room which he occupies for the present.

NORWAY VICINITY

Mrs. Dorothea Horr is ill with a cold and attack of heart trouble.

Arthur Hadley of Gorham, N. H., is visiting of his sister, Mrs. Arsene Record and family, this week.

Miss Ella Decoteau of Auburn and Miss Adelaide Decoteau of Portland spent Easter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Decoteau of Winter St.

Mrs. Freeland E. Adams returned to Norway at Grand View Farm, in Northern Maine spending the Easter holiday with Mrs. L. F. Adams of Portland.

A fire hydrant opposite A. G. Parker's barber shop received electric treatment and was thawed out, Tuesday. This was the only hydrant found frozen this winter.

The members of the N. N. Club and several guests met at the home of Mrs. Alice Blaquiere, Tuesday evening, Apr. 6. A social evening was enjoyed with three tables of "63." Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. Next meeting is with Mrs. Mary Rich, Tuesday evening, April 13.

The Inter-Church Basket Ball League closes Tuesday evening at 7:30 with the Universalist and Congregational quintets in a final struggle at Norway high school gym. The Universalist team is undefeated and the Congregationalists have dropped only one game. Under these conditions a lively time is anticipated for there is a wholesome rivalry.

Winfield Allen is moving into the Joseph Morrell house opposite the Congregational Church. Mr. Allen bought the premises some months ago, after Mr. Morrell decided to move from town. The Allens were former owners, having sold to Mr. Morrell.

Miss Olive Stone, a teacher of French and English, in the high school at Cato, N. Y., arrived Sunday and will return on Friday. She is visiting with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Stone.

Rev. O. H. Tracy, D. D., is suffering with eye trouble that is yielding slowly to treatment. If he is unable to preach at Norway and South Paris on Sunday morning, a supply will be provided for both churches.

The April meeting of the Ladies' Farm Bureau will be held Friday, April 16, at Grange Hall, this to be the spring millinery meeting. Members who have material will assist the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Gladys Page, if they will have their material cleansed and pressed. The pastel shades will be used this season in preference to the bright shades of the past season. Dinner will be served at noon.

Miss Margaret Skillings of Bolsters Mills is clerking at the A. L. Clerk Drug Store. She commenced work last Monday.

The lake opened last year on April 14, but several old timers have set the last week in April for the big event. Others more optimistic think sometime from the 21st and 22nd will mark the disappearance of the ice sheet.

Nineteen babies received attention at the free clinic conducted two days last week in the grange hall. Another clinic will be held there in May, when Miss Cora Weber, R. N., will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Luck entertained at a dinner party Thursday evening at their home on Pleasant Street. The table settings were in yellow and the room was lighted with yellow candles. The centerpiece was yellow jonquils and the place cards were dainty yellow creations, while the favors were lavender nut bowls decorated with yellow chickens. The evening was devoted to bridge. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Angus, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Packard, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Scott L. Kilborn and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben O. Jellerson.

Miss Mildred J. Holmes, who has been at Southern Pines, N. C., during the winter, returned home Saturday evening and is stopping with her aunt, Mrs. H. L. Horne.

Philip M. Everett, who is working in the Cushman shoe shop at Auburn, spent the week end at home with his family.

Mrs Perley May has been spending a few days with her friend, Mrs. Austin Miller in Portland.

Emery Wentzen, a bright lad of 16, called at our office recently. We were surprised to learn that he was a student at Gould's Academy and a resident of Norway. Why he should omit the high school here and go there at greatly increased expense is unaccountable. The lad said he guessed it was because the school in Bethel had better control over him than the school here. Is it possible that an academy has better control over a growing young man than his parents and the school where he lives?

"Old Fred" is dead and moved off the stage after twenty-one years' active service. "Old Fred" was the horse owned by G. Oscar Bennett the past five years, and a familiar object on the streets. For eleven years the horse was a member of the group at O. M. Cummings' livery stable and has a record mileage against all comers.

One year ago this week—snow gone, good wheeling over country roads, some brook fishing, Mayflower buds in the home, baseball practice, and frog music.

Ralph "Jake" Andrews is a clerk at the grocery store of Jackson-Greenlaw Co.

Among the college students home for Easter were Willis Hasty, Bowdoin; Stephen J. Cummings, Boston University; June Smith, Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass.; Gladys Barker, Gorham Normal School; Beatrice Drake, Farmington Normal School; Laurestine L. Foster, Smith College, and Elizabeth Hall, Bates College.

Another snow storm arrived Saturday night, covering everything to the depth of six inches. The sidewalk plow was used Sunday morning. In spite of slush the Easter services at the churches attracted large congregations, both morning and evening. The temperature fell at night making traveling rough and bumpy for Monday, but restored the sledding that was disappearing in the village.

MELLIE-GRAMS

Seven Weeks More Writes Mellie Dunham

This week he is at Youngstown, Ohio, and next week will return to the 105th Street Theatre, Cleveland. It is for the opening of Keith's Million Dollar Play House and then to Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Planting Time Calls Him

"One week more passed. Weeks slip by and planting time will soon reach Maine and the seed must be put in the ground for the harvest even on Crockett Ridge, Norway. How fast they go! Yet everyone brings new scenes, new friends and incidentally a "pay day". We have had a cold rough week, but not nearly as bad as they have had in many places around us. Much damage has been done north, west and south of us. We are both well. We go to Youngstown next week.

The theatre people had a baked bean contest and Gram and I had to judge them. The winner gets $50.00. Then they carried them out to a hospital for crippled children. We went too and I played a few pieces for the kids. One that I played was "Cincinnati Hornpipe". The children thought it was fine so did the people in the Armory at Lewiston last October. Our act is going well.

We have met Marion and Fred Noble and Frank Barron here in town, formerly of Norway. We do not see very much of the country we pass through as most of our trips are made in the night, but we have some daylight journeys, which are very interesting. Several of the people in our act have been into Kentuck, which is only a short distance away. I didn't go. Neither did Gram. Regards to all.

Cincinnati, April 2, '26. Mellie.

Mellie's Home Song

Tune "Home Sweet Home"
I've traveled near, I've traveled far,
I'm weary oftenwhile;
But having started I must keep
Apace, and wear a smile.
Sometimes the yearning in my heart,
My old home town to see,
Is almost more than I can bear,
But patient I must be.
I'm getting nearer every day,
My last and final act;
Then Gram and I will tickets buy,
And have our suit-case packed.
The joy of viewing my home-town,
God grant I see it soon;
And when its borders I have reached,
It's Home Sweet Home my tune.
Chorus
Home, Home, my old home town;
It never looked so sweet before,
Now Gram, we'll settle down.

—JENNIE LIND ALLEN.

112 Union Ave., Old Orchard, daughter of an old fiddler.

Mellie is a Giant at the Buick Co.

Mellie Dunham with his faithful fiddle is posing in the window at the Norway Buick Co. It is not our Mellie in the flesh, but a good reproduction some eight feet in height, the work of a scenic artist. A photograph was enlarged and painted in colors, on wall board, then cut out to make a full length statue. A lighting effect has been worked out by Ned Burnell, which sets the figure off to advantage. The statue was for publicity in theatre lobbies and presented to Mellie at Washington, D. C. Nate Noble, his son-in-law, is caretaker of the gift until Mellie returns.

National Music News Service of Cincinnati says: "His faith in the goodness of human beings has been reinforced by his traveling about the country, "Grandpa Mellie" Dunham, champion fiddler of Maine, in Cincinnati to present his vaudeville act, has confided to friends here.

"Folks are the same as they always was," the stockily-built old fiddler said, as he exhibited a solid silver watch which had been slipped into his hand by "a friend" one night as he left the wings of the stage, he said. "They'll be good to you if you're good to them, but you can't expect to be treated fairly if you don't do the same thing."

"The aged fiddler's eyes filled with tears as he described to officials of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company, while he was a guest there, that he would "never forget the kindness of Henry Ford to my wife and me. He treated me in a princely manner. Nobody could have been treated better."

Asked about the dash of Charleston in his act, "Grandpa Mellie" said he could not do it "very well, because when I was young, I was learning to fiddle while most young folks were learning to jig. My wife says my dancing reminds her of a horse tied to a post he don't like. I'd rather fiddle than do the Charleston any day."

During his visit to the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company here, "Grandpa Mellie" posed for a photographer with genuine good humor, holding a high-priced rare violin from the Wurlitzer collection in characteristic poise.

Guy Herrick received a paper from Youngstown, Ohio, saying Mellie was warmly received there by a serenade. There are thirty people with him and they were putting on three shows, one in the forenoon, afternoon, and evening.

CAUTION AND SICK WHEELING

D. M. French, General Manager and big boss of the Leonard Packing Co., at Pittsfield, N. H., write us.

He says he shall come here when "the wheeling gets better." Just as though the wheeling was sick and he waiting for its recovery!

We are waiting for him at the Wearies, where he refused to play cards after he was appointed deputy sheriff. Had Sheriff Cummings of Augusta been similarly cautious he might have avoided trouble and first page newspaper publicity.

The marriage of Samuel B. Stuart of Norway and Mabel E. Kinney of Phillips took place at the Methodist parsonage in Norway, Saturday at 6:30 p. m. The officiating clergyman, Rev. N. R. Pearson performed the single ring service. They will make their home in Norway.

Word was received from Portland, Thursday, concerning the condition of John Haselton, who is at the St. Barnabas Hospital. "Uncle" John is resting comfortably, the amputation of his leg will not be necessary at present.

Angleworms and a lot of them have been found in a flower pot in our house. They are alive and squirming. The discovery was made in the recent transplanting of a plant. Wonder how they got there? We know, but won't let on.

Mrs. Charles Libby went to North Newry to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. Percy Walker, while Mr. Walker is in New York on business.

The Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club met Thursday at the Congregational Church. Perley F. Ripley spoke on his recent trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Katherine Jones of New York and Miss Mary Jones from the Maine School of Commerce, are the guests of their father, Judge William F. Jones, Pleasant street, during the Easter vacation.

Sporting Column

Barnyard Golf Coming With the Birds

Barnyard golf, otherwise pitching horseshoes is being revived and a summer campaign is being planned. An association exists in Oxford County affiliated with the state and national organization with some fifty members.

South Paris leads this section with a bunch of champions at the Mason Manufacturing Co. and other good tossers scattered throughout the village. The sport has a strong hold in that town and Norway is not far behind with a delegation of hurlers. Oxford is another likely town with several extra good shoe men.

Plans indicate a lively summer with matches and tournaments reaching out to Auburn and other pitching centers. It is possible lanes may be made on the fair grounds early in the season, where the sport can be enjoyed during the summer and matches held at the Oxford County's big show in September.

Whatever goes, it is certain that barnyard golf is the coming sport up this way and has already developed championship material.

INTER-CHURCH BASKET BALL GAMES

The Norway Universalists had an easy time with the South Paris Baptists at the gym, Tuesday night. "Runt" Towne dazed the small audience with his sensational shots from mid-court. The Norway Congo also won their game at Paris by the score of 34-17, thus not changing the league standing. The last game in the schedule next Friday night, between the Universalists and Congregationalists should prove a thriller. League standing:

DIETETICAL TRY OUTS

John Woodman is careful of eating, sort of reducing weight. No need of it, as he is just right now and good looking.

Someone recently told him about calories or choloric in food and that 1400 was a dose. He adopted the system and gave it a painstaking try-out, resulting in an increase of 3 pounds in seven days.

The system was abandoned and he is now running on the black hat and vitamine plan and has not yet reported.

His friends wait results with interest as the fishing season is late and whittling timber nearly exhausted.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sanborn Shoe Shop Co. and the Norway Shoe Shop Co. was held Tuesday evening at the Municipal Court room. Reports of the officers were read and the following officers were elected for both companies:

Pres.—S. B. Cummings.
V. Pres.—J. N. Favor.
Treas.—P. Y. Fogg.
Clerk—R. S. Osgood.
Directors—H. F. Andrews, E. N. Swett, E. S. Cummings.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

Lake Temple, Pythian Sisters will have their roll call supper at the next meeting, April 20. Supper will be served at 6:45. Committee in charge are:

Sadie Lapham	Ida Everett
Beatrice Smith	Esther Lapham
Florence Fanenf	Alta Hall
Myrtle Currier	Addie Lovejoy
Gertrude Mattor	Ed. Thompson
Nina Felt	Fred Swan
Mary Kimball	Wm. Smith

After supper there will be the regular meeting and both degrees, ladies' and gentlemen's will be worked on a class of twelve candidates.

Mrs. B. F. Bradbury has returned from Lewiston, where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. Leroy Luce and grandson, Peyson Lee Luce. Both mother and child are doing well.

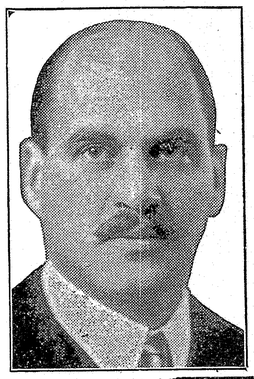

Word has been received from California that Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Gibson, former Norway residents and their son, Leslie Gibson and family are soon moving from Visalia to Roseville, a new town of 7,000 inhabitants, where they will open a shoe store, as there is none in the place. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harriman will move into the Gibson house.

Wilson Walker will not tear down the bakery building as planned, but will move the building onto another lot, and may be refitted as a bake shop.

Annual inspection of Co. C, 103 Infantry was conducted Monday night by Capt. Wright, a regular army officer from Ayer, Mass. Everything was found in excellent condition.

Wants to Be Governor of the State of Maine

WM. TUDOR GARDINER of Gardiner

Speaker of the Maine House of Representatives at its last session

He is a good looker, good actor and a good talker, and is said to be safely grounded in all the present day Republican principles and policies including prohibition, publicity and the water power question.

What more is needed?

Pyramid Parties

After spring housecleaning and street cleaning there will evidently be a grand rush of Pyramid parties. At the present time, there is a lull owing evidently to the above named causes.

One that was omitted from publication in the Advertiser was that of Mrs. Nellie Goodwin's, when she entertained a group of four and two for a pleasant evening with "63". She served a dainty lunch. Her guests were Mrs. Etta Lebroke, Mrs. Maud Spiller, Mrs. Lida Drake, Mrs. Mildred Nevers, Mrs. Merle Brown and Mrs. Eva Anderson.

Mrs. Homer R. Luck was hostess, Friday afternoon, April 2, entertaining a group of four for a social afternoon and she served five o'clock tea. Her guests were Mrs. Elgin Greenleaf, Mrs. Arthur Herrick, Miss Dorothy Noble and Mrs. George F. Hathaway.

Mrs. Ella Partridge entertained a group of four at her home at Norway Lake, Friday afternoon, April 2, and this was observed as "Mothers' Day", each guest bringing her little one. Mrs. Daniel Dullea, Mrs. Ben Tucker, Mrs. Howard Bennett and Mrs. Alfred Snow made up the mothers and the babies kept things interesting. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Miss Mary Favor gave her group of three a theatre party Saturday evening, entertaining them at the Rex. These included the Misses Thurley Tucker, Madelyn Burgess and Catherine Drake.

Miss Harriett C. Knight entertained her guests at a theatre party at the Rex, Tuesday afternoon, these including Mrs. B. G. McIntire, Mrs. Carl Foss, Mrs. Percy H. Nevers and Miss Mildred J. Holmes.

Mrs. Lucy Kilgore entertained two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, for her Pyramid party.

Miss Hazel E. Bicknell will have a millinery sale at the Cole-Marsden store at Gray, Wednesday and Thursday.

E. Ray Frost has a busy time keeping up with his orders for bird houses and feeding stations. He operates a shop at his home on Tyler Street in Oxford Park, where bird houses containing from one to thirty-two rooms are made according to government specifications, but the designs are original. The architecture varies from a simple bungalow style to Queen Ann cottage and apartment house type. They must certainly be attractive to birds and ornamental to the premises. Mr. Frost also makes arbors in a number of styles.

Obituary

Charles Daniel Herrick

After a long period of failing health, Charles D. Herrick of Norway passed away Saturday, April 3, at his home, following a shock early in the week. His age was 70 years, 5 months, 1 day.

He was born in Norway, Oct. 2, 1855, the son of Henry and Ruth Leach Herrick. His early life was spent in Greenwood, and for ten years resided in Paris, being employed at the Paris Manufacturing Co. He purchased a farm in Norway in 1892 which he carried on until 1923 when his second wife died and he sold the place and moved to the village.

Mr. Herrick married Miss Ellen Burrows in 1879. Ten years later she died, leaving three children. On May 18, 1891 he married Miss Mary E. Haskell, who passed away November 15, 1923.

Mr. Herrick was a republican and had been affiliated with the Methodists and Congregationalists. He was not a member of any fraternal order.

The deceased leaves three children by the first marriage, Guy B. Herrick, Norway; Mrs. F. E. Maskell, Portland; L. S. Herrick, Charleston, S. C.; a daughter, Cora, died in infancy. Two sons by the second marriage are living, F. Virgil Herrick and Charles J. Herrick of Sanford. Carroll G. Herrick was killed in France, Oct. 7, 1918, during the World War, and Henry died in infancy. He leaves a brother, Edward Herrick, and a sister, Mrs. Opha Ring, both of West Paris, also two grandchildren, Edith F. Maskell of Portland and Rose Ellen Herrick of Sanford.

Services were held at Spiller's Funeral Home, Tuesday, at 2 p. m., attended by Rev. Olin B. Tracy of the Congregational Church. The bearers were F. Virgil Herrick, Charles J. Herrick, F. E. Maskell and Wallace Merrill. The remains were placed in the tomb at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery for burial there.

Guy N. Carter

Guy N. Carter of Revere, Mass., passed away at a hospital in Lynn, Mass., Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, April 7. He underwent an operation for appendicitis on the previous Wednesday and failed to rally. His age was 41 years, 6 months and 24 days.

Mr. Carter was born in Norway, Sept. 13, 1884, the son of George W. and Hattie Edwards Carter. He was educated in the high school and was shoemaker in the B. F. Spinney & Co. factory before moving to Massachusetts. For some years he was connected with the United Shoe Machinery Co., and had manufactured shoes. He was a member of several Masonic bodies.

He leaves his widow, who was Miss Lura Chase of South Paris, and three children, Clara, Esther and George, also his mother, who resides in Norway; an aunt, Mrs. Austin Hutchinson of Waterford, and one uncle, John W. Carter of Auburn.

The remains will be brought to Norway Saturday evening, for the services to be held at Spiller's Funeral Home, Sunday, at 2 p. m. Interment at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery.

Louis Albion Alexander

Louis A. Alexander of Waterbury, Conn., pased away in that city Sunday, April 4, after a surgical operation. His age was 64 years.

Mr. Alexander spent a vacation in Norway with his sister, Mrs. Eugene F. Smith, some three years ago, at the cottage at Lake Pennesseewassee, and made many acquaintances.

He had been inspector and manager of a department of the Waterbury Brass and Iron Company for many years.

Mr. Alexander leaves two sons, Newton W., and Louis Jr., both of Connecticut. Two sisters and one brother also survive: Mrs. Ela Odiorne of Richmond, Me., and Mrs. Smith of Norway, and Joseph Alexander of Richmond.

BENEFIT DANCE FOR JOHN HASELTON

Plans are underway for a benefit dance at Norway Opera House for John Haselton of Westbrook, formerly of Norway. "Uncle" John is at the St. Barnabas Hospital in Portland for treatment. It is feared the amputation of a leg may be necessary and that his stay there may be of long duration.

A host of Norway friends will cooperate in any movement to assist "Uncle" John in his hour of need. A dance is suggested as a means to raise a substantial gift to honor a former townsman who in years past has done so much for the social life of Norway. All can help when the tickets are offered and without doubt, the response will be spontaneous.

Nothing can cheer a fellow so much as to know his friends never forget, and are behind him with something substantial when misfortune comes.

For many years "Uncle" John, the famous dancing master, has been a true friend to Norway and a booster for the town; now we can show our appreciation with deeds that speak louder than words.

Judge W. F. Jones, manager of the Opera House has offered the use of the hall free and Walter S. Stearns, who has played violin at many of "Uncle" John's dances is organizing an orchestra for the occasion. The musicians have freely offered their services as a contribution to the worthy cause.

CHICKEN PROJECT IS GOING STRONG

At present the chick raising project is the big study at the Aggie department of Norway High School.

About 400 lively chicks occupy the brooder house and are under the care of the class. Mr. Brown, the instructor, has 100 R. I. Reds, a few days old, from a strain in Cleveland, Ohio. Alfred Dyer, proprietor of Red Bird Farm, Norway, presented 100 eggs to the class and 70 lively chicks have developed. Mr. Brown proposes to cross the cockerels of the Dyer strain with the pullets of the Ohio pen. The cockerels from that mating will be crossed back with the government strain represented in Mr. Dyer's birds. This will be carried out for the project next spring.

In the brooder house Clayton Hall is growing 100 white wyandotte chicks from Cleveland. In addition, Mr. Brown has 150 chicks representing the Jackson strain of Reds.

The incubator is working on the third hatch. Mark Smith, Mrs. Smith and Howard Smith have 200 eggs, Donald Richardson has 155 and Theodore Frost has furnished 30. The machine was started last Saturday and will complete the work for the season.

The first hatch came off March 10 and a strict account kept in detail. At the end of sixteen days Howard Decoster carried home 58 strong chicks from 81 fertile eggs; Alpheus Jackson had 134 lively chicks from 186 fertile eggs. Mr. Brown secured 14 birds from 20 eggs. Several small consignments in the hatch netted good returns. The hatch gave 76 per cent average.

The cost sheet for the foregoing project is interesting and commences at the brooder house, covering a period of sixteen days. Electric heat, average per day, 4 kw, or 32c per day. Grain and sour milk, .025 per chicken per day. Result, averaged 2.8 chickens to make one pound at end of the test.

The figures are based on 214 chicks about half the capacity of the brooder.

PRESIDENT OF MAINE FEDERATION WILL SPEAK

Mrs. Anna C. Witherle of Castine, president of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs will speak in Community Hall, Friday, April 9 at 3 p. m. This meeting is under the auspices of the Norway Women's Club and is open to all ladies whether or not members of the local organization. Mrs. Witherle is a charming speaker and will present many interesting and helpful things.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

BOARD OF TRADE WILL DO PUBLICITY STUNT

Advertising Paris was the key note at the meeting of the Board of Trade, Friday evening, when nearly one hundred members and invited guests gathered in Odd Fellows dining hall to enjoy a banquet and afterward listen to several speakers.

The banquet served by the Rebekahs was a success as were the songs with Mrs. Ida Neal at the piano.

Robert W. Wheeler, president of the Board of Trade presided. The first speaker, Clarence G. Morton, referred to the revival of interest in this community organization in which eating and good fellowship is a common medium of public service open to all.

Dr. D. M. Stewart, chairman of the soliciting committee for the library reported progress in the campaign for donations. At present there is $200 less than $20,000 in the fund, but the full amount is reasonably sure.

A. B. Garcelon of Bangor, formerly superintendent of schools in Paris expressed his interest in the progress of the community and cautioned against dissipating energies by a multiplicity of interests.

Perley F. Ripley, who was asked to report on the matter of tarring a portion of the street in the center of the village was in doubt about its practicability under present conditions, but a man from the state highway department will be here to look into the matter.

L. C. Minor, field secretary of the Maine Publicity Bureau talked interestingly on publicity as concerning the town of Maine and splendid results obtained through the co-operation of the bureau.

Alton C. Wheeler, as one of the local publicity committee outlined some of the projects as guideboards, road signs and phamphlets.

J. Harold Neal, chairman of the local publicity committee advocating amending the guide boards in Market Square, which should be done by the town. Mr. Neal had samples of wooden arrows marked South Paris to be posted on strategic points over a radius of twenty-five miles and more. He suggested that about one hundred could be used to advantage, each costing one dollar. Two sign boards about six by eight feet were proposed, also from three to five thousand copies of a small illustrated pamphlet would be useful. The budget for this advertising amunition would total about $300.

A vote was carried to authorize the finance committee to find the money and the publicity committee to spend it. It was voted that each member of the board pay two dollars this year, one each for annual dues and publicity.

Fire Alarm Boxes

Tentative location for fifteen fire alarm boxes have been selected in accordance with population, property to be protected and availability. There may be numerous changes before they are permanently located.

No. 1. Market Square. Unanimous location.

No. 2. Corner of Main street and Skillings Avenue. This covers a residential territory where fires are likely to occur from the railroad.

No. 3. Corner of Main street and Pine street This box accommodates the Mason Manufacturing Co., the depot property and the Ripley & Fletcher Co. property, as well as the court house property. It has been suggested that this box might be located at the junction of Western Avenue and Main street more nearly opposite the Ripley & Fletcher Co. garage.

No. 4. Corner of Main street and Gary street. This box accommodates the Walker property, the corn shop and some extensive residential property.

No. 5. Corner of Main street and Charles street. This box accommodates the Catholic church, the Oxford County Agricultural Society and a wide residential district.

No. 6. Corner of Charles street and Gary street. This box accommodates Oxford Park district.

No. 7. Corner of Pine street and Briggs Avenue, so called. This box covers the est residential street and the large public investment at the high school building.

No. 8. Corner of Church street and Gothic street. This location was chosen to cover the streets running in four directions in the main residential portion of the village.

No. 9. Corner of Gothic street and Western Avenue. This box covers the territory which has never had but a very small amount of protection by telephone.

No. 10. Corner of East Main street and Oxford street. Ths covers at least three streets.

No. 11. Corner of Hill street and Brook street. This covers the foundry district, Kenney's mill and is available from several different streets.

No. 12. Corner of High street and Spring street. This would be available for the whole of lower High street and he section across the park.

No. 13. Corner of High street and Penley street. This takes care of the upper section of High street in a satisfactory manner, but could be put slightly farther up High street if the development is expected to increase rapidly on Woodland Park.

No. 14. Corner of Nichols street and Western Avenue. This would protect the Paris Manufacturing Co. and the residences on Nichols street.

No. 15. Corner of Park street, Wheeler street and Porter street.

Sometime in May, W. S. Culbert is to give a demonstration of his super-smokeless hot air furnace, in the public square.

Mrs. Frank S. Chandler returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred P. Chandler at Auburn, Tuesday after visiting for several weeks with her son, W. S. Chandler and family.

A spot dance will be featured at the grange hall next Saturday evening. Prizes will be given. Shaw's Syncopators will furnish music.

Candidates for high school baseball are set for outdoor practise when snow leaves the athletic field. There has been no team work as yet and scheduled games are not two weeks ahead. This fate is common to all schools in this section of Maine.

Miss Rachel Turner, assistant in the Registry of Deeds office is visiting her mother, Mrs. Adelaide Turner at Leeds this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Clark have gone to Washington, D. C., to visit their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Clark. They plan to be away two or three weeks. Miss Mary Dwinal of Mechanic Falls is with Mrs. Sarah Clark during their absence.

A. French Stevens has purchased the radio shop in Association block of Raymond Dunham and will run a drug store in the same block but exchange rooms with Perkins & French the barbers. Mr. Dunham will store his radios in the basement room which he occupies for the present.

Mildred Hancock's Birthday Party—Grange Program—Combined Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gay have been entertaining his sister, Miss Alice Gay of South Paris for the past week. She returned home, Monday.

School began Monday, April 5th after one week's vacation.

N. G. Pinkham was in town a few days of last week calling on old friends

Wilmot Lord has resumed his studies here, starting Monday morning

Lelia Pulkkinen has the mumps.

Mildred Hancock entertained some of her little friends at a birthday party at her home Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Ice cream and cake were enjoyed. Those present were Susie Grover, Ruth, Rita and Avis Merrow, Irma and Velma Scribner, Eva and Edna Brett.

After the regular meeting of Crooked River Grange, Saturday, April 3rd, the following program was rendered, Miss C. S. Cook and Mrs. Zeline Hancock in charge:

Violin duet
A. W. Weston and Charles Lombard
Reading ..... Mrs. Mary Hicks
Piano solo ..... Mrs. Ethel Skillings

A. W. Weston and Charles Lombard

As it was Easter time the charter and officers' stands were decorated with flowers. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were enjoyed.

A Pyramid party was entertained by Mrs. Lenz Stone at her home, Saturday, April 3, the affair being in honor of her husband's and Lyman Shedd's birthdays, which occur on the same day. The Pyramid guests were Mr. and Mrs Lyman Shedd, D. E. Caswell, Mr and Mrs. H. G. Caswell, Bertie Purrington, the host and hostess. The hostess served a bountiful lunch at noon the menu being potatoes with giblet gravy, cold sliced pork, fried chicken, creamed corn, creamed shelled beans, cranberries, cucumber pickles, mince, blueberry, rhubard pies, doughnuts, coffee, cigars and candy. After the guests of honor had opened their gifts the afternoon passed quickly with a table of "63". Later ice cream and a beautifully decorated pyramid birthday cake lighted with candles was served. The guests on leaving:

"Wished them many returns of this day,
Years filled with profit, pleasure, and play,
Lyman at seventy-five, so young and so spry,
Can beat most the boys, no matter how hard they may try,
But though James is twenty-five years the youngest,
With pies, cakes and beans can appease his hunger,
So may this jolly crowd live long
To meet each year with feast and song.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Stuart were guests at James Stone's, Sunday.

The St. Petersburg papers give a beautiful description of a state parade. Mrs. Alma J. Hancock represented Maine.

Charles Jordan is buying hay of Dr. Wight. He has recently lost one of his mules from the usual distemper.

Mrs. Tom Harney and children are visiting for a month in Massachusetts.

Annie B. Hazelton has a flock of eight chickens hatched out last week.

Willard Littlefield spent the week end at G. E. Farmer's and played at the dance at I. O. O. F. hall.

Mrs A. B. Hazelton spent a few days at Norway and also visited her daughter, G Maude Allen at Lewiston. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marston stayed at her home and Mrs. Marston did the housework and had charge of the store. Mrs. Hazelton brought home a new line of goods.

The spool mill that has been closed for two weeks, started up Monday.

Fred Dow is cooking at Wentworth's camps.

WATERFORD

Warren Bishop Visiting at Dr. Hubbard's—Gertrude Adams Injured Hand.

Where are the "beautiful flowers" and the "green grass" that the Easter cards tell about? We think that it will take some time for the grass to appear, for at present it is hidden under eight or ten inches of soft snow that fell the night before Easter Sunday. The sleighing is very good and likely to be so for some time.

Easter Sunday was observed with a very interesting sermon by the pastor, followed by exercises by the Sunday school. The children all did well and everyone enjoyed hearing them. Each child was given a potted plant to take home. There was a good attendance, considering the bad waking.

George Wheeler is one of the latest victims of the bad colds.

Annie Grover has returned from a visit at Poland Springs.

Orpha Sias Davis, who has been visiting her sister in Harrison, spent Sunday night with Mrs. Nellie Stone; she left on Monday to vist her father who lives in Turner.

Warren Bishop from Brooklyn is spending the Easter vacation in Waterford, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Hubbard.

Gertrude Adams, who injured her hand by running it through the electric wringer, is improving slowly. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Mrs. Ida Morgan was sick a couple of days last week.

Mrs. Lillian Morse, who sprained her ankle a while ago, is able to be out again.

Edmund Douglas has returned from a visit in Portland.

Percy Kimball is helping C. D. Morse with the whitewashing and painting in the cottage which he is building.

LYNCHVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Riley McKeen returned home from Woodstock, where they have been staying the past few weeks with Mrs. McKeen's son, Chester Beckler.

Minnie McKeen returned home from South Paris, Wednesday, where she has been visiting the past five weeks.

Arthur Merserve and Mary Cobb visited Mrs. Cobb's brother and sister, Fred and Minnie McKeen, Saturday night and Sunday; they also called on Mrs. Cobb's son. Otis Cobb, Sunday.

Fred McKeen and son, Carl, have been sick the past few days.

OXFORD

Fore Street

Autos Run in Spite of Snow Storm—Deer and Partridge Seen—Ai Twitchell Sawing Wood.

Nine inches of new snow Easter morning, but automobiles passed from early morn 'till into the night.

A deer was seen near Elmer Twitchell's buildings this week and a partridge nearby, also.

Louise Twitchell has been with her grandmother, Mrs. Josiah Trebilcock, of Oxford several days, assisting her with her work, as Mrs. Trebilcock is ill.

Mrs. Ai Twitchell and children spent the day, Thursday, in Oxford, with her father, James Dunbar and family.

Mrs. Chestina Twitchell and Flora Cummings were dinner guests of Mrs. Alice Cummings, Wednesday.

Miss Arline Grover has so far recovered from her recent illness that she is out.

The traveling has been so terrible that Miss Chestina Twitchell boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards, Norway, instead of going to and from school by team.

Ai Twitchell, with this and that one to assist, is sawing wood with his engine and saw for people on the south end of the street, beginning with his own.

EAST OXFORD

Guy Wilson sprained his ankle very badly, Monday, March 29, and has been confined to the bed since.

James Vagg has been visiting Mrs. Bob Strother and family.

Mrs. Herman Records has been helping Mrs. Percy Wilson with her work for the past week.

Miss Alice Teague, R. N., of Boston, Mass., spent the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Teague.

Miss Bernice Wilson came home from her school at Mechanic Falls, Sunday night, sick with appendicitis. She went to Lewiston, Tuesday, for treatment.

Mrs. D. L. Dorey of Welchville visited Mrs. George H. McKeen a few days last week. Mr. Dorey was a guest there, Thursday night.

After Flu and Colds
Tanlac Brings Back Health
After a bout with the flu, when your knees are wobbly and your feet like lead, when your back is weak and your head swimming, tone up your system with Tanlac. Note how you pick right up from the first few doses.
Thousands of men and women are happy and vigorous today because Tanlac carried them over similar periods of weakness and depression. Its action is perfectly natural because its ingredients are all natural. Roots, barks and herbs long known for their medicinal values, combine their tonic properties and give to Tanlac its amazing power to revitalize the blood and invigorate the digestive organs. It snaps the whole system into fighting trim.
If flu has left you just "half-alive," don't delay in taking Tanlac. So long as your system is weak and run-down it cannot resist fatigue; it cannot throw off the attack of any germ or illness you may be exposed to. Tone up your whole body; enjoy the vigor of natural health and let Tanlac rid your system of all after-flu impurities. Then you'll feel fit, and be fit; natural vitality and resistance will be yours again.
Step into your druggist's today and get this amazing tonic. The first bottle will convince you of its merits. And as an added precaution, keep your bowels open with Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

Do You Know
That a Small Down Payment Puts a New McCormick-Deering Primrose on Your Farm?
Our liberal time payment plan lets every farmer buy the McCORMICK-DEERING Primrose Ball-Bearing Cream Separator easily, paying for it out of his increased income. 12 full months to pay—and you don't have to pay much!

Earn as You Turn—
Ball Bearings Make It Easy!
The McCORMICK-DEERING Primrose is a wonderful machine—a mechanical masterpiece. Its fast-moving parts spin easily on high-grade ball-bearings, eliminating hard work and minimizing vibration. It goes about its work faithfully twice each day and turns out a grade of rich cream beyond compare. No farmer can afford to be without it a day longer!
Ask Us to Demonstrate
It's up to you. Say the word and we will set up the machine on your farm, show you how to use it, adjust it perfectly, and ask only a small down payment. You'll find it the world's easiest-running cream separator and you'll like it better every day.
12 Full Months to Pay
J. W. PLATT, Colesburg, Iowa, says:
"I do not believe there is another cream separator of any other make in this community skimming so close and giving as high a test as our Primrose.
"Anyone looking for a close-skimming, economical cream separator does well to buy a Primrose—for it's a machine that can't be beat."

Seen 'bout enough of beautiful (?) snow.
And when 'taint that, the wind will blow,
But I can stop the wind from howling,
And put the 'kibosh' on its yowling.
For it's always calm and peaceful scenes
When I sally forth to 'winnow' my beans.

The Fliver Editor, who planned to make a triumphal tour of Portland, Gorham and way stations today, missed the morning train by a narrow margin, although it is believed (by him) that he lowered the sprint record on the straight away from the Fliver Bldg. to the depot. But there was small satisfaction in demonstrating his athletic prowess to an appreciative audience, when he thought of the disappointed multitude of hero-worshippers and prominent citizens who were waiting his arrival at the Union station, with bated breath and an open mouthed air of awe and expectancy. The Fliver Ed. has been on the verge of tears all day, as he thought of the heartrending scenes as the disappointed throng slowly dispersed with stifled sobs and dejected spirits. As the Editor slowly and sorrowfully wended his steps homeward to the ponderous portals of the Fliver Bldg. he could foretell by the suppressed chuckles and cheerful countenances of all who greeted him that although he missed his ride, he is in for a good deal of "ribbing" on the part of his friends.

Social After Grange Meeting—Farm Buildings Being Painted—Ingalls Mill Being Repaired—Old Places Deserted.

The Grange held another interesting meeting, Monday evening. At its close the members remained for a social chat and a good feast of chocolates.

Carlton Richardson of Fryeburg has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Eliza Richardson.

Roger Dunn, a student at the University of Maine is spending his Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harver Dunn.

The farm buildings known as the Moses Wentworth place situated on the main road to Bridgton, are being painted. It is good to see these attractive old land marks kept in good repair.

Robert Day is driving to and from his blacksmith shop in his Ford truck.

George Richardson of the east part of the town, is working for Ralph Deering.

Eugene Higgins and son are repairing the Ingalls mill, getting it ready for the spring run of a few weeks Master Nelson Haskell of South Paris has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Algernon Jewett.

Arthur Stevens, who has been employed the past winter in Lovell, has returned home.

Franklin Woodward accompanied by his friend, James Perkins of Boothbay Harbor, has been spending a few days with the former's uncle, Perley Pingree.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartlett of Brownfield spent Wednesday at the home of George Trumbull.

Arthur Richardson is in Boston.

Fred Sanborn, who has been ill at Vero, Fla., is reported to be on the gain, and expects soon to start north, stopping for a while at Southern Pines.

Elwood Pingree recently lost a nice Holstein cow. He passed through the village this past week, driving home several head.

Willie Arnold, who has been ill at his home here is on the gain.

Mrs. Addie Smith spent a day in Portland visiting her mother, who is in a hospital there.

The selectmen, in taking the inventory, report a great falling off of live stock from year to year. There seems to be a tendancy to leave the old places handed down to us from several generations past and settle in villages or along good highways. Maybe the most remote farms are of more value growing up to pine. Without a doubt the majority of places scattered throughout Maine, are ideal locations to live. Where can better scenery, more cordial and better informed people be found than through the hills of old Oxford County.

Shirley Benson and Stuart Stanley were guests at Elmer Baker's, Friday evening. They also spent Tuesday at Fryeburg village, guests of Laurence and Lyman Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hurd visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Hurd at Lovell, Sunday.

Stuart Stanley returned to Brunswick, Monday.

Mrs. Frank Pray and Mrs. Simeon Guptill spent Thursday with Mrs. John Gray.

Esther Haley was a guest at C. E. Stanley's over the week end.

Seth Harriman Building Stable—"Tess" New Dog of the Fernalds.

William Sanborn, Erville Fernald and Herbert Harmon have been taking inventory this past week.

Seth Harriman is building a stable near his house.

Mrs. Lena Emerson visited Mrs. Sybil Heald one day this week.

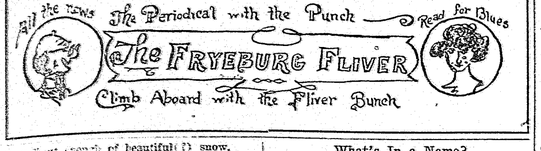

Another foot of snow fell Saturday night making Easter Sunday a purer white.

Sidney Sanborn had his wood sawed, Saturday, the 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fernald have a new puppy. Half shepherd and half collie, having pretty markings of black and white. They have named her "Tess".

Eva Eastman has been ill with a touch of the flu and overwork at the academy.

Sidney Sanborn and Miss Josephine Leso took supper with Roger Smith's family.

What's In a Name?

In naming country districts, there's hardly a name that suits,
On Oxford Street, for instance, the folks all wear high boots,
The autos run through Walker's bridge,
I've seen them walk through, rarely,
I've searched in vain for pum'kins
In the well known pum'kin valley,
And night or day on Fish St.,
I've never seen a fish;
Nor a schooner at the Harbor.
(Since the days of 'prohibish'),
And I've often been through Toll bridge,
But they've never asked for toll.
And high or low on 'Shave' Hill
There's nary a barber's pole,
I could name a score more places
To lengthen out this ditty,
But I'll only say, I must admit
They've rightly named Mud City.

Smith Street Smiles

Frank ("Peanut") Stevens has moved his building onto a lot in New Boston, and plans to remodel it into as fine as home as there is in that beautiful suburb. Frank plans to do the remodelling himself, and though he doesn't claim to be a finished carpenter, he says, if he does bungle the job some, he plans to build "bungalow" style anyhow. Looks as though Mr. Stevens, who s in the taxi business is planning to add to his taxes.

Loring "Pete" Howe is about town, but about as far as he travels is Abbott's Card Parlors, where he looks about for a "bout" with some cribbage enthusiast and no matter how long the boys play 'round, you'll find Pete playing square.

I've often read of Mercury,
The lad with winged feet;
But the 'merc' in my thermometer
Has got that fellow beat.
It acts just like a little lad
Who can't sit still a minute,
It's up and down, and here and there,
I guess the 'old Nick's' in it.
It's climbing up and down the scale
With variations strange,
A voice like John McCormack's
Could not exceed its range.
I watch it in the morning,
Land sakes, it's down to twenty,
I shiver as I shake the fires
And bundle up a plenty,
But when I take another peek,
As sure as you're alive,
That mercury wil ltake a sneak
And climb to 'forty-five."
And ev'ry time I have a look
That thing keeps going higher,
I peel an overcoat or two
(Oh! How I do perspire)
And when I'm down to summer togs,
Palm Beach and B. V. D.'s,
That mercury will take a flop;
And 'Jiminy' how I freeze.

Hens Layed 2100 Eggs in March—Building Beginning—Primary Papers Afloat.

Lots of colds in town, but all seem to be on the mend.

Mrs. A. F. Stanley has been sick the past week.

Frank Harmon has 105 hens and for the month of March got 175 dozen eggs.

Benj. Russell has commenced on Ralph Hurd's new house.

They are at work on the I. O. O. F. hall at No. 4, paint and paper inside and steel roofing on one side of roof.

The social at Delta Hall Saturday evening was largely attended.

Charlie Harmon has been doing some painting for Frank Harmon.

Primary nomination papers are plenty in Lovell. We have one blessing, they cannot all go to Augusta. We have laws and laws, lots of them are not enforced, and yet they make just about so many every two years. If they make a law that does not please any part of the people, they will study up some way whereby they can get around it. Let us obey the laws or repeal them.

The sap season is late this year, only a few trees tapped at this time, April 5.

A large amount of snow on the ground for the first of April, nearly one foot of snow fell Saturday night, last.

Walter Morrill has moved his family into the Joe Willette house in the Ridlon Neighborhood.

REST HAVENS FOR THE WEARY ONES

AN ENTERPRISING TOWN POINTS THE WAY TO A MEANS OF PROVIDING FOR THE AMERICAN LEISURE CLASS

By Don C. Seitz

(Taken from the Outlook of March 31, 1925)

Frequent complaint is made on behalf of retired business and professional men in the United States that they are compelled to migrate to foreign parts in order to obtain the society of others in their class. If they attempt leisure at home they perish from ennui, and, becoming disregarded back numbers, die at the first touch of influenza. Their sad state excites considerable commiseration, and many complaining essays have been written on the subject.

There exists in America a much larger class of the unoccupied for whom, as a rule, no one has sympathy. Indeed, they are all too often spoken of contemptuously as "village loafers." They abound in every small town and constitute the reflective and more interesting part of the population. In days of less progress and slower speed most towns afforded comfortable loafing places in the cobbler's shop or the general store. But modern conditions have made these inhibitive. The chain store, which dominates trade in so many villages, affords not so much as a barrel to sit on. The cobbler is non-extant, having given way to a "chain" repair station, run by a syndicate making shoe machinery. In some cases the public garage offers a poor sort of substitute for the old havens, but here the serenity of loafing is liable to be disturbed by requests to help shift a tire or jack up a car.

The hotel office once afforded considerable refuge, but this has been so smartened up to receive auto tourists as to be uncomfortable. Folks from the cities are always coming in, who regard the loungers as quaint, and comment so audibly as to cause embarrassment. These things are catalogued to emphasize the development of a remedy in the enterprising town of Norway, Maine.

Here the progress of improvement had crowded the leisure class into the hotel office in winter and its piazza in summer. This did very well until the building of a cement road brought crowds of company in warm weather, and the price of coal caused Rob't. Seavey, the genial proprietor, to close up and go to Florida when cold weather came.

Consternation seized the ruminative ones. The winter in Norway lasts from Thanksgiving until the ice goes out in Lake Pennesseewassee in late April. Mr. Seavey's volunteer guests were aghast. No warm radiators to lean against, no big glass window to look out of at the "passing"; nowhere to go unless they went to work. This alternative, the worst of all, stared them in the face until, as is fortunately often the case, the emergency produced a solution.

The editor and owner of the local "Advertiser," Mr. Fred W. Sanborn, has a tender heart. Finding the landlord immovable in his determination to follow Ponce de Leon, he set about to discover a way to end the suffering. A commodious store on the next block from the hostelry was vacant. This he hired, and put in a big box stove. A subscriber who paid in cord-wood was directed to take his load to the store. Chairs and benches, hard and plain, were put in and the key to the door thrown away. He dubbed it "The Weary Club," put out a bulletin-board and a thermometer, and invited the boys to make themselves at home.

The timely move was greatly appreciated. The Club soon became an institution. Men no longer have to stay at home in Norway, and risk trying the temper of their wives. For some reason New England women preserve their vigor longer than the men, and they do despise laziness. In the fierceness of their energy, mental and physical, they have small appreciation of deliberation and a reflective temperament.

To the other accessories Mr. Sanborn thoughtfully added a supply of straight grained pine and cedar, cut and split into handy sections. This is for the whittlers. All the "Wearies," as they have become known, whittle. They sit through the long winter with sharpened knives in hand, curling slender shavings into high heaps before each chair. For a time there was a disposition to make things like anchors and chains or grotesque canes. The strain, however, proved too great. So now they just whittle. No one is required to make any exertion, save that the first man in starts the fire in the box stove. He usually does this with the same match that lights his pipe, so there is no waste. The shavings do the rest. No one thinks of delivering four-foot wood to the Weary Club. It comes fitted for the stove. Of course, a stick or two has to be fed in now and then, but this is usually done by visitors.

Conversation is not required of members. They can sit and think, or merely sit. No one cares. Sometimes they do converse.

Elgin Greenleaf recites his first ride in a speed boat on Moosehead Lake, which he stopped just in time to keep it from going over Squaw Mountain. They discuss the weather, make guesses when the ice will go out in the lake, and wonder how much Henry Ford gave their noted follow-townsman, Mellie Dunham, for fiddlin' for him. Mellie has kept this a delightful secret.

Besides being a haven of rest for its members, the Weary Club is a real local convenience. You always know where to find a man. In the old days he might be waiting for the mail to come in half a dozen places. This involved a laborious looking up. Now but one spot has to be searched.

I forgot to say that in the modern rush the joy of waiting for the mail at the post office has been taken away. Smart letter-carriers tote it from door to door. Not many members of the Club ever get any mail, but waiting for it was a pleasant way of whiling away an hour twice a day.

The Weary Club ought to have exemplars all over the universe. It is a much better organization than its biggest rival, the "What's the Use Club."

CARELESSNESS WITH FIRE INEXCUSABLE

The fire demon is taking an increasing toll every year in this country, on account of careless folks in the mountains. They ride in comfortable automobiles, throw smoking stubs of cigars and cigarettes into the brush and leave live coals in their campfires. Such habits are dangerous even in the city, where there are paved streets, tiled floors and electric stoves; but they are fatal to the future of our forests.

Fire swept over thousands of acres of timber land last summer and fall. The time of year is approaching again when such fires may be expected. Every citizen who goes into the mountains should have impressed upon his mind in some manner the tremendous fire responsibilities that rest upon him along the roads, trails and in the camps.

Winter Vegetables For Maine

Increase Variety for Winter Use—Forcing Method Becoming Popular.

The winter vegetable diet of the people of Maine is limited and should be given more attention. Vegetables are appetizing, relatively cheap, and contain elements essential for health, therefore, we should consume more of them, particularly during the winter months.

The first way to go about increasing the consumption of vegetables is to grow a large number of higher quality vegetables, particularly those suited to winter use. Vegetables little known in the state, but admirably suited to winter use would be chard, brussels sprouts. kohlrabi, chicory, celery, parsley, celoriac, and others, in addition to the ones we are all familiar with. To increase the quality necessitates careful preparation in a number of ways, the selection of the proper variety to grow and proper cultural treatments.

Forcing vegetables will increase the season in the fall, and make it earlier in the spring. Forcing is the growing of vegetables under glass. Every farmer should have a hot bed and cold frame and often times a small greenhouse would more than pay by increasing the earliness of the regular crops. Town and city people can have what we will term a "window frame" built on the outside of a cellar window on the south side of the house and thus securing heat from the sun in the day time and the heat from the cellar at night. This would be restricted to those who have a furnace of course. A frame is a fine place to grow lettuce, spinach, and other greens and salad crops. Chicory, rhubarb, asparagus and occasionally other vegetables can be forced in any cellar with heat provided that the roots are obtainable in the fall before the ground freezes. Rhubarb forced in this manner is considered by some to be superior to the field grown crop.

Those living in towns and cities will find that they can purchase many vegetables on the market nearly the year round. The commercial forcing of vegetables is growing rapidly, and there are several vegetables obtainable even in January and February. It is true many markets are under-supplied with this sort of material, but this will be rapidly overcome, we hope, as the forcing industry continues to grow in the state.

Storing should be given the most important place in supplying winter vegetables. We say that the aim of a vegetable garden should be a constant supply of vegetables throughout the growing season with the surplus canned and stored for winter use. Canning is the best way to store many of our vegetables.

Spring Sunshine

And then

New Spring Clothes

With the first breath of spring, winter clothes seem heavy and uninteresting. One longs to drive or walk in the sunshine; one longs to buy extravagant new clothes and wear them gaily down the avenue.

But for most, clothes must not be "extravagant." They must be, oh, so correct, so smart and yet moderately priced! That is the combination we offer in

Wooltex New Coats

The latest modes at reasonable prices

At $16.50 to $59.50

Dress Coats

Flare models emphasizing the princess silhouette, with cleverly designed circular panels, godets, inset gores. Straight-line models with all the chic of Paris. Many fur trimmed collars, stand-up in back with long rolling lapels. In twill fabrics, featuring thistledown gray, new blue, pitch pine green, rose tans.

At $10.00 to $29.50

Topcoats

Much is made of the topcoat this season. Specially smart tweeds have been designed for it; tweeds in smart plaids, tweeds showing geometrical designs, tweeds in solid colors. One group features the straight front and flaring back that falls from the shoulders. The other, the mannish cut with tailored collar and notched lapels, single or double breasted.

Norway and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Morrell, who recently bought a home in Lewiston, have their household goods packed and expected to move this week, but because of the bad condition of the roads they have been unable to go. They were given a farewell surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pride, who invited them over to spend the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Morrill were much surprised on their arrival to see so many friends gathered there. A jolly evening was spent playing cards. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Jackson entertained the Arguenot Club at their home Thursday evening. A most delightful supper was served at 6:30. The place cards created a good deal of amusement as they were "take-offs" on the business of the men present. The evening was devoted to bridge. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Luck, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Vivian W. Hills and the host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hutchins substituted for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Young, who were unable to be present on account of illness.

Mrs. B. F. Bradbury entertained a group of relatives and friends Tuesday evening in honor of the 80th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hayes of Oxford, who is spending the winter at the Bradbury home. Mr. and Mrs. James N. Favor and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Foster, Mrs. Charles L. Bartlett and Mrs. Albert J. Stearns were guests for dinner. During the evening Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Stearns joined the party. While the gentlemen enjoyed a game of cards, the ladies had a pleasant social hour. Mrs. Hayes was the recipient of many fine gifts and post cards.

Two chimney fires this week were handled by Chief Giles Frost, with a number of firemen and the chemical truck. Monday, a chimney at W. G. Conary's, opposite the Methodist Church caused trouble. Wednesday afternoon a stubborn fire at the George A. Brooks house, Water St., occupied by Albert A. Towne, required the large chemical to extinguish. The buildings were not damaged.

Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, will hold regular meeting, Friday evening and meeting will open at 7:30 prompt for a short session as there will be a benefit card party after the meeting at 8:15 o'clock. Each member will invite guests for a table and will carry a plate of refreshments.

Relatives have received word that Mrs. John Horne of Portland, formerly Wealthy Noyes, underwent a surgical operation, Monday at St. Barnabas hospital. She was taken seriously ill on Sunday and removed to the hospital that day. Later reports indicated that a second operation might be necessary.

Rupert Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Aldrich, Beal street, is seriously ill at his home. A surgical operation was performed on his leg Sunday by Dr. Abbott of Portland and Dr. Littlefield of South Paris for a condition which might have had it beginning from some injury at least several months ago. The young man is a senior at South Paris High school, a catcher on the ball team and guard in the basket ball quintet. He won honors for the school at carnivals the past winter and is one of the most popular students. Last summer he played back stop for Norway Town team in the Pine Tree League.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Wednesday, the 14th with Mrs. Hazel Hosmer, Marston street.

Melvin B. Morey of Norway has been appointed cruelty to animals officer, by Governor Brewster.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, our Heavenly Father has in His infinite wisdom seen fit to call to the Great Grange above, one of our Sisters, Ella Cummings, a loyal member of Round Mountain Grange, No. 162, therefore be it

Resolved: That in the death of Sister Cummings, Round Mountain Grange has lost a faithful member, one who was deeply interested in all Grange work.

Resolved: That as a grange we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt symothy.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy sent to the family, and a copy sent to the Norway Advertiser for publication. Also that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days.

The members of William Henry Stone Post as well as prospective members of both the post and unit are invited to attend. The last social was pronounced by some "the best time we've ever had" and doubtless the next will be equally enjoyable.

Harold B. Johnson, president and editor of The Watertown Daily Times (N. Y.) writes: —"In reply to your inquiry as to my interest in Norway: I have made a couple of trips to Norway locality with my family in the summer. For thirty years or more I have read Dr. C. A. Stephens' stories with a Norway background. I have a pleasant acquaintance with Dr. Stephens. I know Mr. Don Seitz. I think your community has a distinct personality and for some time I have been interested in it. I like your paper. It is my idea of what a weekly town paper should be."

Mrs. Blanch Tubbs entertained the Past Matrons' Association of Oxford Chapter, O. E. S. at her home Thursday afternoon and evening, April 1st. The afternoon was passed socially. The hostess served supper at seven o'clock to which the husbands were invited. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vivian W. Hills, Mr. and Mrs. William C. What Makes Norway Great?

By Lydia Lord Shedd of North Waterford

Under the blue New England sky,
Where pines' low music thrills,
The grand old scenes of Norway lie,
In the heart of the Oxford hills.
Here the sunshine lingers longest,
On the hills, and on the streams,
And the heart beats are the strongest
In the place of all our dreams.
The dwellers here are staunch and true,
Loyal to home, and state;
Their children follow in their steps,
That's what makes Norway great.

A stream flows out from silvery bowl,
O'er hillside, down through moss and brake,
And gathering force, it finds a goal
In clear Pennesseewassee Lake,
'Tis here a sweet singer lives,
And women noble in word and deed,
And here a well known writer gives
Stories fit for all to read.
Long may they live and tales relate,
Where nature sings to their listening ear,
Of happenings in the Pine Tree State—
These all help to make Norway great.

'Tis here the champion Fiddler dwells,
On Crockett Ridge, the sunniest side,
His "Rippling Waves" with beauty swells
In echoes sounding far and wide,
And the murmuring of the river
With its music low and sweet,
Blend and harmonize together
In a melody complete.
'Tis here the waters are the clearest,
And the blue of heaven seems nearest,
In the dear old Pine Tree State—
These are what makes Norway great.

Thrifty people gather here
With minds that are keen and bright,
There are ministers, lawyers, doctors, too
With poets and artists not a few,
Who help the town go right.
The Advertiser comes each week
With authentic news and snappy,
Bringing every week good cheer,
So "Buy or Borrow" a copy.
It gives the news all o'er the County
And mightily makes Norway great.

All her scenes are fair and lovely,
Whether skies are blue or gray,
With the pine-clad hills above her
Where the evening breezes play.
Tho long in foreign lands we fare,
Beyond old ocean's purling foam,
There's not a place that can compare
With this, our own New England home.
Go North, or South, go East, or West,
Of all fair lands we deem her best—
This town in the Pine Tree State,
And this makes Norway great.

Everybody's booming Norway,
'Tis all the rage and fashion,
And not a country ruse, they say,
But a mighty ruling passion
So here's another little bit
To help the cause along,
Since Norway's made a rousing hit
With violin and song.
The seeds of honor have long been sown,
And now the town comes into its own
Bringing a thrill to the Pine Tree State,
That is what makes Norway great.

The regular meeting of Oxford Chapter, No. 168, Order of the Easter Star, was held Tuesday evening and the degrees conferred on two candidates. Following the work a buffet lunch was served. LOVELL

Funeral of A. S. Elliott

Funeral services for Alonzo S. Elliott, who died recently at Armagh, were held at the W. S. Gordon home there on Friday. From there the body was taken overland to McDowell cemetery in Pine Township, Indiana County, where additional services were conducted by the Rev. Walter Ruch, pastor of the Nebo Presbyterian Church, in which the deceased was an elder fo rmany years.

Mr. Elliott was born in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine, July 22, 1837, the son of the late Jones and Mary Chandler Elliott. He came to Ebensburg, Pa., in December, 1858, where he worked making shook until October 21, 1861, when he enlisted in Company C, Pennsylvania V. S. V. I. He was wounded at Corinth, Miss., which disabled him for further services in the army. He was honorably discharged at Indianapolis, Ind., when he returned to his home. On September 20, 1864, he was united in marriage to Anna D. Jones, a daughter of the late John and Jane Jones, early Welsh settlers of Pine Township, Indiana County. A few years later they purchased a farm in Barr Township, Cambria County, where Mrs. Elliott died suddenly July 3, 1906. Mr. Elliott later sold his farm and made his home with his children until his demise. Besides the daughter, Mrs. W. S. Gordon, of Armagh, he is survived by the following children: John E., of Nant-y-Glo; Benjamin O., of Cleveland, O; Frank E., of Sterling, Col. One son, Leroy J., died at Lock Haven, Pa., January 10, 1909, from injuries received while at work. Three sons died in infancy. He is also survived by 25 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Oxford Pomona

Good Attendance Considering Bad Travelling—Hospitality of Welchville Grange Big Feature.

Oxford Pomona held its regular April meeting with Welchville Grange, Tuesday, April 6. Notwithstanding the condition of the roads the attendance was very good. From the time of arrival at Oxford station, the hospitality of this grange began to be noticeable, conveyances being ready to transfer the delegation over to the hall, the hearty greetings of its members, the bountiful dinner, the help in entertaining during the Lecturer's hour, the lunch before leaving by team for the station, all helped to make Oxford Pomona members welcome for the day, with cordial invitation to come again. All felt as if one small grange had surely done its part.

All officers were present except Ceres and Lady Assistant Steward. Pro tem officers were Lady Assistant, Hattie Buck of Norway, Ceres, Sister Brooks.

One demit was granted. The Worthy Master appointed the Assistant and Lady Assistant and Master of Welchville Grange as committee on credentials. While waiting for their report the usual business was taken up. Past Master J. H. Edwards of Massachusetts gave a few remarks describing the Mt. Hermon school, where he is located; these were enjoyed by all especially as Bro. Edwards meets with Oxford Pomona so seldom. Fourteen candidates were instructed in the fifth degree, after which dinner was announced. This was under the direction of Mrs. Hunting and many were the compliments on the excellence of it.

The roll call of granges was the first in order after dinner, the following being represented: Crooked River 2; Hebron 2; Paris 26; Norway 20; Oxford 36; Bear Mt. 1; Franklin 13; Alder River 1; Bear River 3; West Paris 7; Frederick Robie 3; visitors, Excelsior Grange 3; Lake Grange 2. An open meeting was declared and the following program by the Worthy Lecturer, L. E. Wight. As the speaker was unavoidably detained all took hold and helped out.

Opening Song .... Chorus
Address of Welcome
Richard Tyner, Master of Welchville Grange
Response .... Master of Oxford Pomona, C. F. Saunders.
Song with encore, "Beneath the Pines of Maine" .... Caroline Smith
Remarks .... Rev. A. W. Young

Reading with encore .... Orin Martin
Talk on the Grange, the Farm Bureau, and the Individual Farm .... Austin Stearns, Jr.
Song .... Chorus
Question, When is the time to market hogs? Opened by Bro. W. J. Knightly, followed by Bros. Denning, Tyner, Brown, Young, Talbot, H. Brown, Hunting, Coy, Martin, Sister White and others.
Reading and encore .... Freeland Cummings
Reading and encore .... Annie Brown
Remarks .... James Walker
Reading .... Joseph Hunting
Question Does the Businees Man treat the farmer with same amount of respect that the farmer does the business man? Opened by Bro. Dudley, followed by Bros. Staples, Barrett, Chaplin, Coy, Buck, Stearns, and Sister Tyner.

Next meeting to be with Pleasant Valley Grange in May with Miss Florence Hale as speaker.

An interesting story entitled "Over the Sky Line," written by a lady in Oxford County, will soon appear in this paper. It has a war time and western flavor and is intensely interesting. Watch for it.

NORTH BRIDGTON

Bridgton Academy

Bridgton Academy opened Tuesday for the spring term with several new students enrolled for the last term. Owing to a change in the train schedule it was necessary to run a special train over the narrow gauge to accommodate the large number of students returning from their Easter holidays.

In Chapel Tuesday morning Principal Sampson read the names of those making the honor roll for the winter term. The honor roll this term contains the names of twenty-four students representing seven different towns although there are 32 different towns upon the student register this year. The junior class ranks highest with 8 students, the seniors second with 6, the Freshmen third with 6 students, the post-graduates fourth with 3 students and the sophomores fifth with 2 students. The town of Waterford ranks first as to towns with 7 students upon the roll, then comes Harrison with 3 students, North Bridgton 4, Baldwin 2, Roxbury, Mass., 2, Sago 1 and Albany 1. It is also interesting to note that out of the 24 there are ten students who have been upon the various athletic teams throughout the year, several students being upon both the football and basket ball teams.

The only students in school again to receive high honor is Hilma Pulkkinen of Harrison, with an average of 96.25. Those receiving honors were Leroy Hersey of Waterford with 93.00 for an average grade. The others in this list were Samai Pulkkinen of Harrison, Ralph Perkins of Waterford, Winona Flint of East Hiram, James Frisbie of North Bridgton, Alton Crockett of North Bridgton, Eleanor Harmon of Harrison, Arki Neime of Waterford and June Brown of Albany.

There were fourteen students who received a grade of 85 or better and were placed upon the honorable mentioned list. They were Lester Pinkham of Saco, Edward Guptill of Baldwin, Louise Stone of Waterford, Bertha Kimball of Waterford, Leigh Flint of North Bridgton, Marion Kennard of Baldwin, Paul Crehan of Roxbury, Mass., Hilda Roberts of Harrison, Lee Muldoon of Roxbury, Mass., Donald Whitney of Harrison, Anne Kautto of Waterford, Austin Brigham of North Bridgton, Mona Greene of Harrison and Lillian Millett of Waterford.

The Norway-South Paris and Portland Express will start operations as soon as the roads are passable.

EAST WATERFORD

Warren Vinton Kneeland

Warren Vinton Kneeland passed away at his home at East Waterford, Tuesday, at one o'clock p. m., March 23rd, 1926. Mr. Kneeland was the youngest son of Hannibal H. and Lydia Stearns Kneeland and was born in Sweden, Me., May 8th, 1855, aged 70 years, 10 months and 15 days. Only one of the large family of nine children, Mrs. Henrietta Whitcomb, aged 84 years, survives.

Mr. Kneeland was educated in the public schools of Sweden and Waterford and afterward attended several terms of high school. In the spring of 1872, being only 17 years of age, he went to Berlin, N. H., and worked for nine summers for what is now the Brown Company, coming back to Maine winters and attended Bridgton Academy. In that way he had completed his course at the academy with the exception of one term, when his aged mother became seriously ill and he left school to help care for her and never finished the course which he always regretted in after years. For several years he taught school in Waterford, Albany and Berlin, N. H. He was a great student and until failing health caused him to give up his reading was never happier then when seated by his fireside studying the marvelous work of God and nature. In religious belief he was a Methodist, joining the Methodist church in Sweden when quite young, but of late years has attended the Universalist church when health would permit. In 1878 while working in New Hampshire he joined Gorham Lodge, No. 73, F. and A. M. and after coming to Waterford to live he became affiliated with Mt. Tir'em Lodge, F. and A. M. in 1888, which he served faithfully as master two years and as secretary six years until his hearing became impaired and he was compelled to resign on that account. He was a charter member of Keoka Chapter, No. 12 and had belonged 33 years. He was a life long Democrat and had served for years on the town committee. He was chairman of the selectmen for several years, also member of the schoolboard and has served his adopted town faithfully in many ways. As was said by one who knew him well, "was ever ready to listen to troubles, real or imaginary and give them a just decision".

Jan. 11, 1883 he married Rosa A. Ward of Gorham, N. H., and came to the old home at Sweden to live. In 1887 fire destroyed this home and they came to Waterford, where they purchased a farm and lived for 31 years until failing health compelled them to find a smaller place. In 1918 they purchased the Berry home at East Waterford.

To them were born three children, Grover C., who resides in Salem, Mass., Francis Warren, who died at the age of 5 years and Eleanor F., wife of Fred J. Lovejoy and seven grand children, Warren Bray and Marjorie Alice Kneeland of Salem, Mass., Dorothy Pearl, Alfred Warren, Lillian Frances, Kenneth George and Cleveland Reginald of Norway, who with several nieces and nephews survive.

Funeral services were held at his late home, Friday afternoon at one o'clock and was attended by a large delegation of relatives, neighbors and brother Masons, Rev. A. C. Townsend speaking words of comfort to the stricken family. The bearers were Geo. L. Hilton, Clarence H. Pride, Roy E. Pinkham and Geo. M. Stevens, Leroy M. Spiller in charge.

The floral emblems were many and beautiful, silent messengers of the love and respect in which he was held. They were as follows:

Pillow, Roses, Pinks, and Lilies—Mrs Kneeland.

Spray 72 Pink and White Pinks—Children, grandchildren.

Spray Dark Red and Yellow Tulips—Mrs. Henrietta Whitcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Hobson, Mr and Mrs. Merton Hobson.

Spray Pinks and Heliotrope—Mr. and Mrs. George L. Kimball and family.

Spray Pink Pinks—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Moulton.

Spray Yellow Jonquils—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Weyheich and Mrs. Imogene Lovejoy.

Large Spray of Easter Lilies—Neighbors.

Pillow, Mixed Flowers—Mt. Tir'em Lodge No. 132, F. and A. M.

Star Mixed Flowers—Keoka Chapter No. 12, O. E. S.

Spray Pink Pinks—Charles D. Morse.

Spray Pink and White Tulips—Elmer Morey.

Spray Red and White Pinks—W. H. Leavitt and wife.

Cut Flowers, Beautiful Gloxinias and other house flowers—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. McIntire.

Cut Flowers—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pinkham.

HEBRON

Easter services were held at the Baptist Church, Sunday morning. An inspiring sermon was preached by the pastro, Rev. A. E. Kingsley, F. S. Pike, our blind singer, sang a solo, "The Holy City." The church was prettily decorated with Easter lilies, cut flowers and potted plants.

The Ladies' Circle met Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage, Miss Margaret Kingsley, hostess.

The valuable Jersey cow of H. K. Stearns is sick.

Malcolm Glover is quite sick with grippe.

F. S. Pike has tapped his maple trees and made some nice syrup.

Advising Careful Reading

Read this paper all over, every word of it and believe what you see fit. It is the best we can give you:

A bear story and a moral on page 8 by Leona L. Moore of Bridgton. Look at it and the "Danger of Borrowing".

There is however no danger or risk in borrowing this paper. We want you to do it. It is a right you have and it's our request. Do it.

Queenie Rowe writes of the First Robbin. See page 8 and not be fooled.

Figure out the figures of the insurance statements. They look strong and speak loud. Millions on millions of wealth. Are you insured? If not get it—life, fire, auto and accident. No need to go away or send to the city. Deal at home.

Cabbage is selling for 12 cents a pound in the market. Canned pumpkin pies find a place on the table along with horseradish and housecleaning. Paper for cupboard shelves for sale at this office.

Winter Vegetables for Maine on page three along with the Fryeburg Fliver with its poetical strains and Probate Court inventories of those who have passed. Look them over.

Big failure of Norway is of old vintage and not of present day. We are pleased that it is ancient history and is on page 6 along with a valuable religious story of Portsmouth, N. H., owned by E. C. Russell of this town. Perfect spelling and the Moose drama. Look at it. See that almost a thousand dollars of the school children's pennies have gone into the Norway Savings Bank, instead of being spent for candy.

Clark's final "victorious argument" is on page 9. It is the last in the series or at least said to be. It sets things right according to his mind though of course at variance with what is entertained by Judge C. F. Whitman. It's educational and is history.

Local items from everywhere—principally in this vicinity with a picture of a good man who wants to be governor.

Don't send out of town to be cheated. Let it be done at home so a benefit may accrue to the neighbors.

Read the Intelligence Column and be happy remembering we want you to lend this paper to any of your neighbors who want it.

HARRISON

Mrs. G. A. Flint Entertained on Birthday—Edgerlys On Way Home From Palm Beach—Schools Reopened Monday—Mrs. D. H. Green Home From Hospital—Libby's Summer Home Being Repaired—Change in Train Service.

Mrs. George A. Flint celebrated her birthday at her home on High street, Friday, April 2nd. A number of friends called, congratulations and gifts were bestowed on Mrs. Flint, who served dainty refreshments. She received a number of gifts and the guests enjoyed radio, music and singing.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edgerly received word the past week that they have started north and are visiting and sight seeing en route. They have passed the winter at West Palm Beach, Fla., and spent several days in Washington and will visit other places.

The village schools opened Monday after the Easter recess.

J. Wallace Caswell has gone to Pemoquod, where he is employed by Burnham and Morrill.

Mrs. Joseph Fortier of Otisfield spent the week end with Mr. Fortier, who works for E. G. Emerson.

E. G. Emerson is hauling lumber for a boys' camp to be built at McWain Pond in Waterford.

John St. John is ill at his home on Waterford Road and in care of a physician.

Mrs. Robert Heath and daughter, Frances are visiting with friends in Bridgton, where Mr. Heath is employed. Mrs. Heath's health is improving rapidly.

Harmon Keene, who is working in Lovell spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Keene on High street.

Bernard Ladd has been ill the past week at his grandparents', Mr. and Mrs. John Keene's.

Ralph Leavitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leavitt, has been ill and confined to his home.

Excellent pictures are shown each Saturday evening at the Bungalow Play House under the management of Phil Spaulding. Next Saturday, April 10th comes "The Girl Who Wouldn't Work", while on April 17th the famous picture. 'Black Cyclone" comedies, a serial and Pathe News are part of the program.

Delmore Robinson and Mrs. Addie Thurston of Norway spent the week end with his sister, Mrs. E. C. Jordon on School street.

Friends of Mrs. D. H. Greene are delighted to learn that she has returned to her home on Front street after spending six weeks at St. Barnabas Hospital in Portland, where she underwent a serious operation.

Kenneth Packard, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Packard of Lake street is the champion fisherman of this section, having captured a good sized salmon last week in Long Lake.

Mrs. Leonard Carsley and son, Richard, are spending the week at South Harrison with Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Randall.

Nathaniel E. Whitney finished work at the Country Shop Saturday and has returned to Pitts Bros.' store, where he previously worked.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Libby of South Portland are stopping at her parents'. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Whitney's on Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Libby are having their summer home on Hillside Avenue renovated and re-papered and painted, ready for early occupancy.

Ernest Winslow, who has been employed at Camp Arcade in Casco, has returned to his home on Waterford Road.

E. E. Ward spent last week in Springvale, Sanford, Biddeford, Saco in the interests of the North East Metal Culvert Co. This week he is in Rockland and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Jewett of Vero, Fla., are planning to return to their home here in the near future. Mrs. Jewett's health is very poor.

A complete change was made on the train schedule of the B. and S. R. R. R. on Monday last. Only one arrival each day and one train leaving town handicaps the business considerably.

Venona Brown has returned to her work in Montclair, N. J., and Melva Brown to West Baldwin after spending several weeks with their mother, Mrs. Melvin Jordan.

George Roberts of South Harrison is undergoing surgical treatment at a hospital in Portland.

Melvin Jordan is working at the Seavey Milk Farm on E. K. Hill.

Mrs. Melvin Jordan is spending a few weeks at West Baldwin and vicinity visiting relatives.

AN EASTER PRAYER

W. N. Roundy of Davenport, Iowa, sends us copies of the following:

Unto the ends of all the earth,
May there be Gladnes, Joy and Mirth,
From Thee whose strength doth still avail,
May Thy New Word in might prevail,
Both far and near and far and wide,
May hearts grow kind and open eyed.

May Faith increase from sun to sun,
By Truth may all minds yet be won,
May all men's deeds be nobly done,
Beneath thy flag may all enroll,
Thru Thee may men perceive their goal,—
The splendor of a human soul.

Valuable Old Book

Early Religious History of Portsmouth, N. H., from 1652 to 1805, by Timothy Alden, Jr.

The last ten pages are gone. It was printed by Monroe, Francis & Parker, at Shakspeare's Head, No. 4 Cornhill, Boston, 1808.

The book comes to us by the way of E. S. Russell, Norway, Me.

The following is the title page: "An Account of the Several Religious Societies in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, from their first establishment, and of the Ministers of each to the first of January, 1805. By Timothy Alden, Jun., Member of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and of the society of the State of New York for the promotion of agriculture, arts, and manufacturers." The first three paragraphs read as follows:

"It is a subject of regret, that the first volume of the Portsmouth town records has not been preserved. The second, after exhibiting a few extracts from the former, commences with the transactions of the year 1652. It is considerably mutilated with age, and ought, ere now, to have been transcribed. Nothing is to be found in it, from which we can learn who were employed as preachers of the gospel, in this place, which was first settled by Europeans in 1623, prior to Richard Gibson.

"A grant was made, by the ancient inhabitants of the lower end of Pascataqua, of fifty acres of land for a glebe, on the 25th of May, 1640. From the instrument, by which this sequestration was effected, it appears that a parsonage house and chapel were already erected on the premises, and that the people had chosen Mr. Richard Gibson for "their first parson."

"He was sent from England, as minister to a fishing plantation, belonging to one Trelawney. He was wholly addicted to the hierarchy and and discipline of England, and exercised his ministerial function, according to the ritual. He was summoned before the court, at Boston, for scandalizing the government there and denying their title; but, upon his submission, they discharged him without fine or punishment, being a stranger and about to depart the country."

Norway's Big Paper Failure

Local People Lost Out—First Wood Pulp Paper Made in America Made in Norway

Fifty-two years ago last November, Norway had its real big industrial failure. The Norway Paper Manufacturing Company was bankrupt. The list of financial mourners were many—120 individuals and firms—total liabilities $36,733.92.

It was a knock-out blow to the paper industry in this town. It never came back. The story of it is occasionally told even to this day. Recently G. Julian Brown and J. T. Rowe talked it over at the Wearies. The former was owed $101.88 and the latter $112.01—fifty dollars of each was considered preferred, but both strongly affirm they never received a penny. A. L. F. Pike had $137.38 for labor and a hundred dollars more, probably loaned. David F. Foster $21.99, Willie Sanborn, W H. Sanborn had $16.20, Simeon Yeaton $10.82 and others. The late Jonathan Blake was creditor for $590.25.

The only secured ones were the Grand Trunk Railway Co., $177.73 and Rice, Kendall & Co. of Boston, $16,893.94.

A. Pagenstechen of New York had $683.45. This is the man who made the first wood pulp in America. It is so stated on good authority. This was done in Norway some years before the failure.

The mill occupied was at Steep Falls and was built by Jonathan Blake shortly after the war probably in 1868 of '69. After the failure it was unoccupied for some time It was later bought by H. L. Horne and the first electric motor for generating electricity was put in and operated for some years. It passed into the hands of different owners or corporations. Finally it was destroyed by fire in December 1922, when occupied by the Novelty Turning Co.

The active heads of the Norway Paper Manufacturing Co. were the Parson Brothers of which John W. and Albert Parsons were the principals.

HEYWOOD CLUB

Entertains Patriots' Day—Improvements at the Club House.

The Heywood Club held session at the Club Hall, Wednesday afternoon, March 31st. There was a good attendance and much business was transacted. No program was given at this meeting as the time was devoted to making draperv curtains and other decorations for the hall. A sewing machine had been previously taken over from a neighbor's and while ladies cut the material, others basted and stitched and much work was accomplished. Many improvements have been made in and about the building and much interest is manifested in the club work. A new piano has recently been purchased and is very satisfactory. All minds are turned toward Patriots' Day, as the Club always makes merry on that day, with a celebration, and this year finds them making the usual preparations for the occasion. They will serve dinner as usual. There will be two ball games and other interesting amusements, with a good program in the Hall at 3 p. m. A buffet lunch will be served at night, in charge of Addie Thurston and Floretta Noble. Dancing in the evening.

The following committees were appointed:

Dinner—Una Jackson, Floretta Noble, Florence Westleigh.
Entertainment—Addie Thurston, Eva Jackson, Cherry Noble, Miss Robinson, Miss Coy.
Chocolate Bars—Carrie Jackson.
Ice Cream—Eva Richardson, Eva Jackson.
Ball Game—Will Young, George Young, Harold Thurston, Stanley Thurston, Alva and Leslie Richardson.

Adjourned to meet in two weeks at Hall.

Lenten Services—Community Suppers—No Service at Albany Sunday, Because of Sickness and Bad Traveling.

After two very helpful services held in connection with the Circle Suppers at Waterford and Albany on recent dates, the last two of the series of Lenten services were held at North Waterford and East Stoneham. The number at North Waterford was kept small by the unpleasant weather, but a very helpful service was enjoyed greatly by those present. On Thursday evening, March 25, at East Stoneham, the girls of the community served the supper, and it was just about as good a supper as the boys served, too—and then after a social hour a song and devotional service was followed by a helpful talk by Mr. Townsend.

On Friday, March 26th, the Girls' Friendship Club of Waterford held a springtime winter carnival. The calendar said "spring," but the carnival was the real thing. The young people of Waterford had a great time that morning. The events were well contested. Charles Rice won the first honors with the highest number of points, but he was closely followed by Celia Gardner, Howard Millett and Elizabeth Millett in the order named.

The girls certainly did not play themselves all out though, for they were right on deck on Tuesday evening, Mar. 30, again.

At that time they gave a supper at the Community House. This was followed by a very entertaining entertainment. One of the several features of the program was a sketch played by six of the club girls. The skit was written by one of the girls, Christine Gardner, and proved with the able acting of the members, to be a very clever piece. The entertainment was followed by games, which all the young people enjoyed. The way in which the whole idea was carried through leads one to surmise that all of the interest in Waterford is bound not to be just a matter of history.

Because of the travelling and sickness there was sno service at Albany Mar. 28, so the services at North Waterford and East Stoneham were in charge of Mr. Bull, while Mr. Townsend conducted the services in the other end of the parish. The program for the Easter services Sunday was varied somewhat from the usual, but they were held at the usual hours, and for Easter.

The United Parish feels very proud of the record that some of its young people have been making at Bridgton. We have no complete list of the honors won, but we do know that while our Carnival Queen, Ruth Holt, has been playing guard on the girls' team that has lost only one game for the season, some of the rest have been busy in other departments, and Ralph Perkins of North Waterford; June Brown, from just over the line in Albany; Roy Hersey, from North Waterford again; and Elizabeth Stone, from the "Flat" have carried off the honors of their class in rank in the order named. We do not want any others to feel that we are at all selfish in this matter, but just the same, we are proud of these young people.

Sorrow has come recently to two homes in our parish. Warren Knecland died at his home at East Waterford, and on Monday, March 22, Mrs. Wallace Cummings of Albany passed over. The sympathy of all goes out to our friends in their hour of sorrow

Well, we could think of some more things to tell you, but we keep so busy most of the time, we do not have much time to talk about what has been going on. Good-night all!

We are glad to live near the great, and feel once in a while a little warmth from a reflected ray. Here in the United Parish some have felt a peculiar interest in their neighbor, Mr. Dunham, and the fame that has come to him. Our heart beat faster when we opened our "Outlook" this afternoon, to find that all the "Wearies" were being introduced to the country at large. So once again do we feel a thrill of neighborliness and we send our congratulations and compliments to our famed neighbors in Norway.

Danger of Borrowing

Taken from Meredith, (N. H.) News

Editor Fred W. Sanborn of Norway, Maine, who years ago adopted the plan of pay-in-advance for his paper, the Norway Advertiser, prints conspicuously week after week this advice: "Buy or Borrow a Copy." The News points out the disadvantages of borrowing, and clips this from a Tennessee paper:

"Listen to a classic print-shop fable: Once upon a time a nickle-nurser sent his kid to borrow the neighbor's paper, and the kid upset a hive of bees and soon was covered with lumps. His father ran to help him and caught his chin on a clothes line and sprained his back and fell and broke a $25 watch. The clothes pole fell over the ear and smashed the windshield and mother, rushing out to see what occasioned all the excitement, upset a five-gallon churn of cream into a basket of kittens, drowning all of them. The electric flat-iron burned through the ironing board while she was out of the kitchen, setting fire to the house, and the firemen broke all the windows and chopped a hole in the roof. The baby ate a jar of pickles and got cholera morbus, and the doctor's bill was $15. The daughter ran away with the hired man during the excitement, the dog bit a neighbor's kid and the calves ate the tails off of four night shirts on the clothes line.

Moral—Subscribe to your home paper. Don't borrow it!"

We want all the people who are interested in our section of the world, at home or abroad, to read the Advertiser. It will do them good. If you can't afford to own a copy, borrow it from a more fortunate neighbor. Down East Yankee neighbors always borrow and lend, and it's right they should. It's no disgrace to borrow—it's neighborly. Do it.

THE FARMER'S PART IN RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

Discussing the part farmers must play in bringing electricity to the rural districts, Owen D. Young recently said:

"The farmers should insist upon study of electrification by their agricultural schools and colleges, by their farm organizations, and require a constant and unending publicity of the results of such studies through their farm journals.

"They should welcome study by power companies and manufacturing companies and should cooperate with them to work out practical plans to get effective results. In each community, they should endeavor to develop a universal sentiment in favor of a power supply and general agreement to take service in order that right of ways may be economically obtained, and cost of service distributed among largest possible numbers of customers.

"The one point I want to make to the farmer is that manufacturing companies may produce devices, electric power companies may bring electricity to his door, but the question remains with the farmer whether he will put it to work. It is he who must say whether or not electricity is to be used in agriculture."

THE FIRE HAZARD ON THE FARM

The American Farm Bureau Federation at Chicago, takes up the question of fewer fires on the farm. Every year enough farm fires occur to build a city like Kansas City. Practically every daily paper contains an item like the following:

"John Doe's barn burned with all its contents, loss so many thousand dollars; uninsured." The Farm Bureau will urge its people to do something about fire carelessness.

Many barns are burned through the use of lanterns, made more necessary through lack of care in planning barn work. A little extra thought in routing the barn chores, in placing the feeding facilities so that they are practically automatic even without a light, would save millions every year and would cost hardly a penny. Barns are left uninsured because under ordinary conditions they are dangerous and high priced risks. It would be far better to insure, however, rather than to try to carry one's own hazard: but the danger might be greatly reduced by definite planning.

Going Bear Hunting

As I was walking along the street the other day, I met my friend Bill.

"Hello, sir," says he, "you're just the guy I want to see."

"How's that?" I asked.

"Well, it's this way, Ive been wantin' to go bear hunting for quite a spell, but no one will go with me. Now the way to get a bear is to use science."

"Science?" I questioned.

"Science!" he nodded, "Now of course in the first place you can't shoot a bear till you see him, can you?"

"No," I answered.

"Well, next thing to do is keep yer nerve an' fire. That, my friend, is very hard to do."

"So I perceive. When do you want to start?"

"Tomorrow," he answered with conviction.

"All right. Meet me at the turn at 6 a. m."

At the time proposed, we were both there. We went up into Walker's woods and at last came to the top of Black Mt.

"Lookey here!" shouted Bill as he neared the foot of a large oak. There under the oak were many bear tracks. While we were looking at them, old Bruin made his appearance.

Dropping my gun, I scrambled up to the first branch and sat looking down on my friend. He had thrown himself face downward as if dead.

Old Bruin approached, grunting, and snuffling. When he reached Bill he smelt him over and at last grunted in his ear. After nosing him a few minutes, he shambled off.

"What did he tell you, Bill?" I shouted.

"He? Why, he asked me what kind of a darn fool I had with me."

THE STORY OF CREATION

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-2:25.
GOLDEN TEXT—In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. —Gen. 1:1.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God the Creator of All Things.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Story of Creation.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—God the Maker of All Things.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God in Creation.

Everything but God had a beginning. God the uncaused cause is the cause of all things. Let this fundamental truth, though beyond the power of the human mind to grasp, be believed and all our problems of philosophy and theology will be solved.

I. The Origin of the Universe (Gen. 1:1).

It was created by God. All things came into being by the will and act of a personal God. Create means to bring into existence that which had no previous existence.

II. The Regeneration of the Earth (1:3-25).

Between verses one and two is clearly marked an interval of perhaps wide duration. The earth which was created by God was subjected to a judgment. The Hebrew word "was" might just as well have been translated "became." Instead, therefore, of the earth having been created a void or chaos, we see that it became so through a cataclysmic judgment. In Isaiah 45:18, the prophet declares that God did not create the earth a waste, but that He formed it to be inhabited. All that real geology has to say to us harmonizes with this view. The so-called six days of creation exhibit God's rehabilitation of the earth.

The cause for this judgment upon the earth is to be found doubtless in the judgment upon Satan, who is called the prince of this world (John 12:31).

Observe that God created the species and decreed that they propagate after their kind. Such a thing as one species developing out of another is unknown to the Bible and real science.

III. The Origin of Man (1:26-28).

He was created by God. He came into being through a special creative act of God. As to nature, he bore the image and likeness of God. This image and likeness is not physical or bodily, but intellectual and moral (Eph. 4:24, Col. 3:10). God's likeness is reflected in man's three-fold nature. Man is spirit, soul and body (I Thess. 5:23). God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with Himself—with whom He could share His glory.

IV. Adam Alone in Eden (2:7-9, 15-20).

He had a most beautiful place in which to live. God gave him surroundings in keeping with his nature. "Pleasant to the sight and good for food" describes his surroundings. He was to "dress and keep" the garden (v. 15), showing that work was God's primal thought for man. To this agrees the teaching of the New Testament. If any man would not work, neither should he eat (II Thess. 3:10). Man in Eden was desolate. Paradise with all its splendor could not satisfy his lonely heart. Animals of all kinds surrounded him, but no companionship among them was to be found for him. To make Adam conscious of his condition God caused the animals to pass before him, with the result that no helpmeet was found for him; man, being a personality, was differentiated from the animal.

V. The Origin of Woman (2:21-24).

To meet the need of man God made the woman. They had minds alike, therefore could commune together about the things that surrounded them, and about God. They had spiritual natures, therefore could commune together and with God. God took a rib from Adam's side and out of it made the woman. Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side—thus woman was one removed farther from the earth than man. Someone has said that the man was dust refined, but the woman was dust doubly refined. Matthew Henry says, "Woman was made of the rib out of the side of Adam, not out of his head to top him, nor out of his feet to be trampled upon by him, but out of his side, to be equal with him—under his arm to be protected and near his heart to be loved."

VI. The Origin of Marriage (2:24).

God made man—male and female. It was His intention that men and women should marry. Marriage is the most sacred of human ties. It is of divine origin, for God Himself performed the marriage ceremony.

Give Credit to God

This act of initiative and daring, this resolute step of entire confidence, is at the same time the most reasonable proceeding that a creature may undertake. Give credit to God; no wisdom, no prudent calculation could be safer.—Charles Wagner.

Killing Doubts

Every step toward Our Lord Christ kills a doubt. Every thought, word, and deed for Him, carries you away from discouragement.

NEWRY

Sunday River

Fred Mundt and son were at the H. M. Kendall farm recently, after hay.

Mrs. Harry Chase and baby daughter, are visiting Mr. Chase's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chase, South Bethel.

Mrs. Herbert M. Kendall writes that she intends returning to her home here about the first of May, for the summer months. The family are in Cambridge, Mass., where the son, Anson Herbert Kendall, is attending Harvard Medical School.

Lumbering operations are slowing down as several operators have their quota of lumber landed at the mills and on the river bank.

Robert Bean has returned from the lake region where he has been driving a team.

The First Robin

Comes to Tell Us Spring is Here—But Bird Had Lost His Voice on April 1st.

Across the face of the calendar of March twenty-first, in bright red letters were the words, "Spring begins," and this statement was verified, as the day proved to be one of blue skies and warm sunshine. The thermometer rose above the normal, and many believed that the long-looked-for period had at last arrived. Snow covered the ground to a depth of a foot or more, but was melting rapidly under the warm sun.

The young lady of the house remarked that soon we would see the robins flying overhead, and she expected to look out some morning and find the first harbinger of spring standing on the old tree stump in the lawn, to keep his feet out of the snow, as she had noticed that the stump was a favored spot.

The old man of the house thought it was a bit early for robins, as they would have to run on skis in order to get about.

As April drew near there were no robins in sight, although the newspapers gave accounts of their arrival in other parts of Maine. The local paper stated that a flock of robins had been seeen flying over the town, but many doubted even that.

The old man had made up his mind that if none appeared before April first, he would go to work and make a handmade robin, so as not to disappoint the young lady. Then he mixed up some plaster, and following the model shown in a book on New England birds, he worked the plastic lump, moulding it into the form of the delayed forerunner of Spring. He whittled the plaster before it became hardened, filed and sandpapered it, so in time it would pass at a distance for the long-looked-for robin. From the hen house he gathered some feathers for the tail, which he inserted in their proper place. He then shellacked the back of the bird, and dusted a few pin feathers on the back and neck, after which he trimmed the tail so that it had the correct sweep and length. Then began the artistic work of painting the breast, using red lead, toned down with a dusting of soot from the house heater. For eyes he inserted two small beads. For the legs he used two finished nails, the heads answered for claws.

On April first as no robins appeared on the landscape, he arose early, and placed on the old tree stump his handmade robin, and from the house he judged it would pass muster. He made up his mind that he had business elsewhere on that day, and stated to the young lady he would not return until supper time.

On April first, as on many previous mornings, the young lady took her place at the window and swept her gaze over the snow-covered lawn, pausing at the old stump, where Lo! and behold, there stood the first robin. She called to her mother to come and see the Spring opening, and they both exclaimed in one voice, "Spring has come at last." The young lady walked out toward the stump, talking baby talk to the bird, and giving him a royal welcome, telling him she had feared that he had fallen in love with Florida, and was not going to pay her a visit this year. She noticed that the bird seemed very tame and motionless. There had been a cold rain the night before, and she told her mother that the bird appeared so quiet, she feared his little feet had frozen to the stump, so she again went out and approached the robin, placing her hand gently along its back, lifting him from off the stump, in so doing one of his legs came off.

The old man had packed some snow and poured water over the stump, so that it would freeze and keep the bird in an upright position, so that was the cause of the dismembered limb.

The young lady hurried to the house and she and her mother looked the handmade robin over carefully, and learned that it was April first as the date had slipped their minds.

When the old man returned, the young lady inquired if he had seen any robins during his absence, which he answered in the negative. "Well," said she, "Mother and I saw one on the tree stump early this morning soon after your departure and brought it in for your inspection, placing in his hand the one legged robin, with the remark, "Probably you have seen this bird before." The old man stoutly denied that he had, but the young lady brought forward convincing evidence in the way of bits of plaster, hen feathers and red paint. She forgave him, and all agreed it was a well played April Fool.

EAST STONEHAM

Sewing Bee at the Vestry—Frank Grover Working in Mill at Stow—Mrs. Ada Hill Returned Home.

Gladys Parker has been sick with a sore throat.

A sewing bee was held at the vestry, April 1, entertained by the ladies. Out of town guests were Mrs. Jason Thurston, Miss Annie Files and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bull, all of North Waterford.

Lyman Chute was called to his home last week by the illnes of his family.

Lottie Butters was canvassing in town this week.

Perry McAlister has been visiting at J. V. Stevens', recently.

William Walker is home from Fryeburg Academy for the Easter vacation.

Carlton Barker has been sick for the past week.

Frank Grover has gone to Stow to work in a mill.

Fred Morse has been sick with an abscess in his head.

Mrs. S. W. Johnson and son, Roy, and Philip Edeerley, have returned to their homes in Bridgton.

Mrs. Jason Thurston visited friends in town, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Henry Trimback and daughter, Helen, have been sick the past week with sore throats.

Mrs. Ada Hill has returned to her home after spending the winter in Norway.

Easter exercises were held at the church Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kendall and daughters, Pauline and Iva, were Sunday guests at John Barker's.

A number from this place attended the dance at North Waterford, Saturday night.

WEST BUCKFIELD

Miss Ruth Bradbury was at home from Norway, recently.

Miss Aldana Phillips came home, Friday, Mar. 26, from Buckfield.

Miss Mary Hall has been at home from Madison for her Easter vacation.

Visitors at Harry Buck's, recently, were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Warren and Ezra of North Buckfield, Mrs. P. M. Bennett, Marjorie, Stanley and Roland Bennett.

Miss Flora Record of Mechanic Falls has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Ellis Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bowman and son, Donald, of Hebron, were at S. E. Briggs' Sunday night and Monday, March 28 and 29.

Bertrand Buck went to Orono, Wednesday, March 24.

H. W. Phillips has sold his auto to Ellsworth Smith.

Dastine Turner, who formerly lived in this part of the town, but now living at Buckfield, is very feeble.

BETHEL

One of Gilead's Oldest Residents Dead—Auction at W. W. Hastings'—Wheels Coming Into Use—Mrs. Ella Carter Dead—Foot of Snow Fell Saturday Night.

F. A. Robinson's family are recovering from the prevailing epidemic.

Erma Marshall is at home sick with mumps; her school has been somewhat broken up with illness among the pupils. She teaches at Middle Intervale.

Word has been received that Dr. I. H. Wight has submitted to an operation, and a steady improvement is hoped for.

Virgil Burnham, who passed away recently, at Mr. Blake's, on Spring St., was one of the oldest inhabitants of Gilead. Failing health made it expedient that he leave the farm and come to the village. He suffered a shock and did not rally. The body was put in the tomb awaiting burial in the family lot in Gilead. Mr. Burnham was for a number of years proprietor of a cap store in Boston.

Mrs. Bessie Sloan came from Lewiston to assist in caring for her daughter, Mrs. Gertie Hapgood, who is ill with measles.

The household goods of the late W. W. Hastings were sold at auction, Friday, April 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Marchus Philbrick of Mexico are with Mrs. Philbrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Peterkin, for an indefinite stay. Mr. Philbrick says he isn't much used to farming, but even now can run the milking machine and say "S' boss" like an old timer.

J. S. Hutchins, manager of the A. & P. store, and his daughter, Dorothy, who is assistant, are both ill. Mrs. Lyman Wheeler and a substitute manager are in charge of the store.

The relatives and friends of Mrs. Ella (Flint) Cummings, wife of W. B. Cummings of Albany, who passed away March 30, are deeply saddened by the loss of a loyal friend and sister.

Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Oliver are both ill with the grip, but improving. There's hardly a family in town but one or two are ill.

Mrs. Howard Gunther has recovered from a severe attack of grip.

At this writing Ira C. Jordan remains very ill; he is a veteran of the civil war and has been in poor health for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marshall have gone to Rumford Falls and are with Mrs. Marshall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Poore.

The trucking around the mills is being done on wheels mostly, a sign of the good old summer time.

Mrs. F. E. Donahue of Maple Inn is slowly recovering from a severe illness.

Mrs. Ella (Clough) Carter, widow of the late Timothy Carter, passed away at her home on Park St., Tuesday, Mar. 31, after a long period of invalidism. Funeral services were held at the home, Thursday, conducted by the Rev. Charlie Easternhouse, pastor of the Universalist Church, of which, when able, Mrs. Carter was a regular attendant. Her daughter, Julia, passed away last summer. Of the remaining members of her immediate family, there are Grace and Frances, Barbara (Mrs. E. P. Lyon), Florence (Mrs. Fred Tibbetts of Portland); sons, Harry, Howard, Gale and Jack, all living in this locality, all but two of the children were able to attend services held for their mother. The body was placed in the receiving tomb awaiting burial.

By accurate measurement, the fall of snow Saturday night was a foot and plus.

We were much interested in the item from South Medford, Mass., and the writer might have added that she was a direct descendant of Daniel Bean, a soldier of the Revolution, also a direct descendant of James Mills, a revolutionary soldier, whose grave can be found in the Grover Hill Cemetery, Bethel. Daniel Beane, or Bane, as the name is spelled in Tullock, Scotland, which is the ancestral home of the Beans (or Banes). The original John Bean, or Bane, arriving in America previous to 1660.

It is reported that the entertainment given by the children under the auspices of the grange is to be repeated at some future date (Oh! but the older ones like to dance "Pop goes the Weasel," too).

Easter Services at Union Hall—Mishemokwa Temple Met Friday—Sugar Eat at Rumford Point.

Easter Sunday was appropriately observed with services at Union Hall, Apr. 4, at 2 o'clock. Easter exercises were carried out by the young people of the Sunday School, after which Rev. Mr. Wills of Rumford Center gave a brief talk on Easter.

Fred Silver, who returned from McCarty's Hospital a week ago, is gaining slowly and is able to be about a little.

Mishemokwa Temple, No. 43, held its regular meeting, Friday evening. The attendance was very good, considering the bad traveling. The committee in charge, Leona Powers, Nellie Holt, Florence and Sarah Stearns, served a delicious lunch of creamed oysters, welsh rarebit, cream puffs, calla lilies, cake and coffee.

H. E. Dyer went to Bethel, Friday, to conduct an auction of the late W. W. Hastings property.

Quite a delegation from this village attended the C. A. A. at Rumford Point, Saturday evening. After the business meeting a short programme was enjoyed, followed by dancing, with a sugar eat at intermission.

Miss Hilda Coady is the guest of her sister, Mrs. O. P. Russell.

Art in Every Day Life

Object of Decoration is to Improve

Only recently has the great American public waked up to the infinite possibilities in making the world a more beautiful place by applying art principles to every day things. Artists are becoming craftsmen and are giving us lovely things to work with. Art is defined as the application of beauty to every man-made thing but this beauty must have a reason for being there. Decorations must not merely be added to an object but must enhance its appearance, must follow the structural form of the object and must be consistent in shape line, color and texture with the object decorated. Above all, decorations should not interfere with the purpose of the object decorated.

There are laws of structure which may apply to any form of art from the painting of a masterpiece to the arranging of a group of articles on a mantelpiece. These are the laws of design. The original structure should be good. All detail of decorative treatment should be planned to improve rather than harm that structure. Objects used together should harmonize in some ways with each other, in shape, size, color, idea, or texture.

Divisions of spaces should be in pleasing relationship with each other. The background of a room, for instance, is divided into spaces by the furniture, doors and windows. Are these spaces interesting in comparison with each other or do they need to be still more divided by the use of pictures and other smaller things. An effect of overcrowding is too easily accomplished when objects are too large for the space in which they are placed. Very large scale furniture should not be placed along side delicate, slender types.

Balance is effected by having equal attractions on both sides of a center axis. This holds true not only in a picture, but the back and the front of a dress or all four walls as viewed from the center of a room. There should be balance from top to bottom as well as from side to side because a top heavy appearance will spoil an otherwise perfect plan. That is one reason why it is essential not to have pictures too high on the walls.

Rhythm or movement is the feeling that the eye is carried easily from one point of interest to another throughout a design plan and to be perfect in its working should lead the eye to the most important point for emphasis. This may be easily arranged in clothing for the neckline carries the interest to the face which is the center of interest in an individual.

With these ideas in mind, the craftsman can put beauty into the shaping of a piece of furniture and the householder can improve the arrangement of her living room and all women can dress more effectively.

"TEN COMMANDMENTS" FOR AUTO DRIVERS

Now that the days are getting longer and the ruts are disappearing from the highways it is time for the automobilist to get the chamois out and the oil can filled.

It is not many moons before the traffic cop will feel the pressure of increased traffic and a landslide of questions, (foolish or otherwise) that the tourist (and also many natives) who visit Maine always has to have answered.

It will be fine if many automobile drivers will just start memorizing a set of rules. They should make up their own list in accordance to-their own failings. One similar to the "Ten Commandments" printed below would be excellent.

1. I will never drive down the left side of the highway.
2. I will never drive fast when danger to pesdestrians or the other fellow seems imminent.
3. I will never drive with faulty tail light function.
4. I will never be caught without the tail light functioning if I have had time to get it replaced or repaired.
5. I will never be a road hog.
6. I will never pass another vehicle on the brow of a hill.
7. I will never fail to indicate when I intend to make a stop or a turn in either direction.
8. I will never let dirt or mud accumulate on the license plates for fear of a cop getting my number.
9. I will never try to mix intoxicating liquors with gasoline or look at the tank with a match. Both very foolish.
10. I will never try to beat an officer on the straightaway.

Strout and Andrews Move—Gertrude Harrington Teaching Town House School—Loss to Community in the Passing of Mrs. W. B. Cummings.

Adelia Cummings, Hugh Stearns, Helen and Philip Beckler, who have been spending their vacation at their homes, have returned to their schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Strout have moved out of the Inman house, and Mr. and Mrs. Perley Andrews will move in soon.

Mrs. Alta Bird is spending a few days at W. I. Beckler's, Mr. and Mrs. Beckler, who have been ill with colds, are better. Mrs. Inez Bean, who has been staying there, returned to Waterford, Sunday.

The town house school commenced, Monday, with Gertrude Harrington as teacher.

Perley Andrews, who has been ill with the "flu" is better.

About a foot of snow fell in the recent storm. There was no church service on Sunday, because of the roads.

A feeling of sadness and gloom was cast over Albany in the passing of Mrs. Wallace B. Cummings, nee Ella Flint, afterwards French, on March 29th. She was born in Albany 68 years ago, the eldest child of James and Mary Flint. One brother, John, and a sister Lilla, passed away several years ago, and Lavaun, the last of the family, who still lives on the old home place, the wife of Howard Allen. Besides this sister, she leaves her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Daisy Philbrook, and Mrs. Lilla Stearns. Four grandchildren, Hugh, Leo and Huldah Stearns and Ivy Philbrook. All of these were with her during her last days. She also leaves an aged aunt, Mrs. Sarah Jordan of Waterford, many cousins, nieces and nephews also will mourn for Aunt Ella, and many friends and neighbors will long remember her. She has been a nurse in years past and up until about four years ago she was always ready to go, night or day, to the call of the sick or those in trouble. She was a member of Round Mountain Grange and of the Congregational Church of Albany and has been a loyal worker always. The services, conducted by Rev. Wilbur Bull of the Oxford County United Parish, were held in her home, where many beautiful flowers bore silent tribute of the love and affection of those who knew and loved her, as well as conveying sympathy to the sorrowing family.

GREENWOOD CENTER

Alphonso Cole spent the week end with his family at West Paris.

Clark's Final Argument

He Claims Victory in Newspaper Debate About Great Men

Editor of Norway Advertiser: I did well to trust you with my comments on Judge Whitman's idea of great men, that you would not publish my words while the Judge's illness might make such publication unseemly. His letter in the Advertiser for April 2 shows that he is coming along all right. I am sorry to learn that he is not completely recovered, and hope that warm sunny days will soon enable him to mingle with the people down town in the good old village of Norway. The Judge is to be congratulated on the capable help which he mentions having received from his daughter-in-law. She was just maturing from girlhood into womanhood when I left Norway, and was one of the very promising young people of the community. It is a pleasant thing, one of her respected father-in-law's "About Town" items, to read that that promise has been fulfilled. The Judge threatens to compare one of the men I mentioned as a great man with Daniel Webster, just to show the difference. The difference is that Daniel Webster made more noise and the men I mentioned performed greater service to the country. I wonder if his notions of Daniel Webster's services can be as erroneous as are his notions of Henry Clay's services. In one of his communications, he mentioned a purpose of glorifying Daniel Webster's sojourn at Fryeburg as a school teacher. He will hardly wish to tell the whole truth about that, for the people of Fryeburg are unable to take pride in the story of the famout orator's life in their town.

My only purpose has been to lead the rising generation to an understanding that American History is not to be taken for granted, that, as written, it is in great need of revision to conform to the facts and, maybe, further give a bit of encouragement to some who would like to do their own investigating. It must now be clear that such history is not to be taken for granted, and it is hoped that some bright young men and women have received encouragement for independent study. So, I will try to make this my final letter on the subject, and will ask the indulgence of just a little more space for some final comments.

The Judge says James Madison (Jr.) presented the first tariff bill in Congress. Of course he did, for, as I previously mentioned, Madison was chairman of the committee to prepare such a bill. It was the chairman's duty to present the bill to the House of Representatives. The Judge is unwilling to admit that it was a protective measure, even after I quoted the very words of the preamble declaring it to be such. He insists that it was not protective. It certainly was not so advanced a measure as some which came later, but those later bills were merely outgrowths of that first measure. That first bill was really the work of the Secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton, and to Hamilton must be given the acknowledgement of having started the national protective tariff policy. Clay had not entered his teens when Hamilton did that.

After Committee Chairman James Madison, Jr., presented the bill, Congressman Thomas Fitzsimmons and some others organized the first bloc in Congress (only it was not then called a "bloc") and amended the bill so as to strengthen the protective provisions. If the Judge will go to original sources and study the doings of that first Congress, he will know that every writer and commentator—either English or American—who states otherwise is in error as to the fundamental facts. He appears to be taking other people's word, and it must be admitted that he names people who ought to have known the facts, but seemingly did not. This is additional proof of the need for better knowledge of American history. My own awakening to the truth in this matter was a shock to myself who had once complacently accepted the very authorities which the Judge not cites. And he refuses to look up those facts.

John C. Calhoun was the man whose personal force made the tariff a national partisan political issue. Calhoun was younger than Clay, and the way that Clay "played second fiddle" to Calhoun is additional evidence of Clay's mediocrity. But Clay could talk more delightfully than Calhoun could. After Calhoun abandoned the protective issue, Clay assumed the leadership of the protectionists, but he never succeeded in "putting it across" as we say in present-day vernacular. He merely succeeded in making a pose. It was left to a later man, Horace Greeley, to saturate the people's minds with protective beliefs, so that at last the idea in its fullness was "put across". The Judge insists that Richard Henry Lee was a great man, and that it is proved by Thomas Jefferson's action in "submitting" the draft of the Declaration of Independence to Lee. Jefferson is reputed to have consulted a considerable group of men on that topic, and maybe Lee was one such. But that hardly proves Lee to have been greater than others—or the others. The Judge complains because I did not pick seven men for comparison with his seven. It is a common thing for men on the losing side of arguments to complain that the arguments of the opposition are of an annoying pattern. The Judge also asserts that he has "a right to the closing statement". That is another fond hope of men on the losing side. He would hardly have made either of those statements unless he realized the weakness of his position. From his own admissions, I claim a victory. But that was not my aim—the purpose was to arouse the younger people to a study of history not to win a debate. The victory though gratifying, is merely incidental.

Boys' and Girls' Clubs Have Supper and Entertainment—Grange Friday Evening—Reduction in Livestock.

Mrs. Hazel Berry and daughter, Marcia, are visiting friends and relatives in Portland.

The Boys' and Girls' Club of the Farm Bureau had an oyster and pastry supper at the Grange Hall, Wednesday evening. A talk on poultry was given by county agent, Roy Thomas, also whist was played and an enjoyable evening spent considering the bad traveling, there was a good attendance.

The grange meeting, Friday evening, was well attended. One application by demit was received. A fine program was put on and games played.

The snow storm of Saturday night was not enjoyed by most people.

There has been a small run of sap so far.

The Academy girls all returned to Fryeburg Academy for the spring term.

The town assessors report a great reduction of livestock since last year.

A Talk With a Norway Man

Mr. Sampson Tells Something of Interest to Norway Folks

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Sampson, of 19 Bridge St., should be mighty helpful here in Norway.

M. W. Sampson, Prop., boat transportation company, 19 Bridge Street, Norway, says: "A severe cold settled in my kidneys and brought on attacks of backache. I was lame and unable to move, the pain in my back was so severe. I had dizzy spells and my kidneys didn't act right, either. After using three boxes of Doan's Pills, the trouble left me."

The above statement was given Sept. 3, 1920, and on July 14, 1925, Mr. Sampson said, "The cure Doan's Pills gave me has lasted."

12,972 Maine People Received a Dividend Check on April 1 WERE YOU ONE?

ON THURSDAY, APRIL 1, the 78th consecutive dividend of Central Maine Power Company was mailed out to the Company's 12,972 stockholders. This means that on an average one family out of every fourteen in the state will receive a C. M. P. Dividend Check.

78th Consecutive Dividend Represents $194,000

The amount distributed to Maine people by this 78th dividend was $194,706.92. The total amount paid out by Central Maine Power Company in preferred stock dividends since the first share was issued 20 years ago is $3,528,117.60.

Money Stays in Maine

If Central Maine Power Company had been financed in the usual way this money would have gone to rich stockholders in remote cities—outside of Maine. Under its customer-ownership plan of financing among Maine people, almost every cent of this money is distributed here in Maine—to be spent in Maine or saved in Maine or invested in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton S. Fuller spent part of the Easter vacation with Mrs. Fuller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Conant in Buckfield.

An all day meeting of Paris Grange was held Saturday, April 3. There was a very good attendance. After dinner the first degree was conferred by the ladies' degree team and the second degree by the regular officers. Sister S. E. Jackson presented Paris Grange with a very pretty top of a quilt of her own designing. It will be put together and sold for the benefit of the grange, when they have their fair. The program consisted of music and an interesting talk by Leslie E. McIntire. The next meeting, April 17, will be Memorial day for the grange with tributes to the deceased members who have departed during the past year. The May 1st meeting is an all day meeting and the 1st and 2nd degrees will be conferred.

Shaw-Silver

One of the social events of the season was the marriage of Miss Beryl Childs Silver to Robert Sherwood Shaw, at the Universalist Church, Wednesday, Apr. 7.

The decorations, in charge of Miss Bana Beede and Mrs. Harold Fletcher, were of Easter lilies and ferns.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. Chester G. Miller, pastor of the church, accompanied by the bridegroom and best man, William L. Maxim, a classmate of the bridegroom, took their places at the altar.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party passed up the aisle. The bride, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sadie L. Silver, was preceded by the bridesmaid, Miss Adalyn Louise Silver, sister of the bride.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. G. Miller. The bride was given in marriage by her mother.

The bride was charmingly gowned in orchid georgette over pink crepe-de-chine with a gold thread lace tunic caught with flowers, and wore a picture hat to match. Her bridal bouquet was of ophelia roses, and she wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bridesmaid was gowned in nasturtium crepe with hat to match and carried ophelia roses. She wore a finger ring, the gift from the bride. The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in powder blue crepe with a hat of pale rose. The ushers were Guy Kendall and Roland Shaw of Portland.

A reception followed in the church vestry, which was effectively decorated with daffodils, pussy-willows and ferns. In the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom were the bridesmaid, the best man, the bride's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Shaw, parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Shaw was gowned in gray silk with hat to harmonize.

After the reception a buffet lunch was served by Mrs. Leroy Conant, assisted by Miss Maxine Bennett, Miss Evelyn Stanley and Miss Beatrice Shaw. The wedding cake made by the bridegroom's mother, was cut by the bride.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will be at home on Danforth Street, Portland.

Wedding guests from away were Mrs. Nettie Warwick and son, Stronach of Worcester, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shedd of South Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Cummings of Rumford, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Silver of Bethel, W. H. Childs the bride's grandfather of West Paris, C. W. Childs and family of West Paris, Miss Grace Noyes of Portland, Mrs. Hallie Savage of Harrisville, R. I.

Mrs. Ralph R. Butts had charge of the guest book.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Sadie L. Silver of South Paris. She graduated from the South Paris High School in the class of 1919, and was the valedictorian. She attended Gray's Business College at Portland. She was employed in the office of Ripley & Fletcher Co., holding the position five years. For the past several months she has been employed in the office of Ralph R. Butts store. She is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary and is one of the popular young ladies and a favorite in town.

Mr. Shaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Shaw of Paris. He graduated from South Paris high school in the class of 1920 and is a member of the Knights of Pythias at Auburn. He is a most estimable young man and highly esteemed. He is now in the employ of F. R. Rumery & Co., contractors, Portland.

The spring term for the schools opened Monday after a week's vacation for Easter.

A. B. Garcelon, superintendent of schools in Bangor has been visiting in town.

Roy O. Millett of Greenwood was brought before Trial Justice A. D. Park on a nuisance charge in which cider is said to have figured. He was held for the grand jury in May. State was represented by Donald B. Partridge who appeared for the county attorney.

The American Legion Auxiliary dance in the grange hall Tuesday evening was well attended. Music was furnished by the Boston Varsity Orchestra.

The funeral of Mrs. Frances S. Harlow who died Wednesday, at the home of her son, Earle Harlow, at Worcester, Mass., will be held here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. P. Adkins, at 54 High Street, Friday, at 2 p. m.

Mrs. G. L. Haines was at West Bethel last week to care for her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Abbott and her son, Fred, who were ill with the flu.

Vernon Lapham of Hanover visited at G. L. Haines' the first of last week.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Ellingwoods Moved to Paris Hill—Miss Clara Berry Returned From Hospital—Annual Parish Meeting.

Joseph Ellingwood's family have moved to Paris Hill. Mr. Ellingwood is engaged here for a few weeks' more work and is boarding at Freeland Herrick's.

Guy Farris and family have moved into Mrs. O. D. Ellingwood's house and Mrs. Ellingwood has returned from Milford, Mass., where she has been spending the winter with Mrs. Everett Harmon.

Clara E. Berry returned from Portland last week, Wednesday, where she has been for the past two month in Dr. Abbott's hospital for an operation on her spine. She is able to take a few steps.

Mrs. Frank Waterhouse has returned from a ten days' visit to her jarents in Portland.

There were seven members of the West Paris Grange present at the Pomona meeting in Oxford, Tuesday.

At the annual parish meeting of the Universalist church last week Tuesday, the following officers were elected:

Moderator—H. H. Wardwell.
Clerk—R. D. Chase.
Treas.—L. C. Bates.
Collector—H. C. Perham.
Trustees—A. C. Perham, R. E. Chase, Mrs. Abbie Abbott.

The financial reports showed good and the Goodwill Society, Mrs. Mildred Davis, president, reported $500 earned. Good reports were given of all the other organizations; Y. P. C. U., S. S. and Mission Circle connected with the church, the Friendly class having remembered about ninety different people with flowers, fruit, etc., during the year. The pastor, Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes, has made nearly four hundred calls not counting weddings and outside funerals. A unanimous vote was given Miss Forbes to remain the coming year. A sum of money was presented the organist, Edith Emery, who has resigned, for her faithful service. Rev. Stanley Manning of Augusta was present and expressed his approbation of the church work.

Rev. Ralph Lowe, district superintendent, visited the Federated church last week and gave a talk of helpfulness to the soliciters of the every member canvass, Thursday afternoon in the M. E. church and again in the evening at the home of R. T. Flavin. Twenty people were present and enjoyed a banquet at 6 o'clock. The following day at 1:00 p. m., seven couples (one Methodist and one Baptist) met at the M. E. church and after prayer by Rev. Lowe, went forth to their allotted sections of the every member canvass. Three other couples followed later in the evening on Sunday. The full report was given on Sunday evening after the concert, when it was found that much good cheer and helpfulness had been done aside from the church support pledges. Friday evening the fourth quarterly conference of the Methodists was held.

Sunday evening a Sunday School Easter concert was held consisting of songs and hymns by the young people's chorus, a ladies' quartet, a character song, World children by four girls with dolls representing Indian, Hazel Herrick, Esquimo, Virginia Verge, Japanese, Zilpha Barrows and African, Ruth McKeen, an exercise by ten children offering the self denial banks and remarks by Rev. E. H. Stover. The offering was for Missions.

Next Sunday, April 11, Jefferson C. Davis, secretary and director of boys' Y. M. C. A. work in Maine, will speak at the Universalist church in the morning at the usual hour. In the evening there will be a union service in the Baptist church at 6:30. Mr. Smith is an able speaker and it is hoped that parents and boys especially will make an effort to hear this man, who is familiar with the problems concerning the boys' life. Everyone will be well repaid for attending.

On April 15th Agnes Hathaway, for twenty years a Universalist worker in Japan, will speak in the afternoon and again at a supper to be given at 6 o'clock as Miss Hathaway will be obliged to leave on the evening train. She has an interesting story to tell of her experiences there.

BRYANT'S POND

Ladies Enjoyed Farm Bureau Meeting—Easter Supper at Grange Hall.

The women's division of the Farm Bureau met at the Grange Hall, Thursday, April 1. The subject was "Ribbon and silk flowers." There were seventeen members and one visitor from Bethel Farm Bureau present. A balanced meal was served at noon by the following committee: Mrs. Florence Swift, Mrs. Elva Abbott, Mrs. Basha Ackley and Mrs. Cora Millett. The menu consisted of fish chowder, crackers, dark and white bread, and butter, beet pickles, fruit salad, cookies, cocoa and water. The next meeting will be April 13, on Millinery. Miss Gladys Page, H. D. A., and Mrs. Cora Perham, millinery project leader, will have charge.

An Easter supper was served at the Grange Hall, April 2. Quite a good sum was realized, which goes toward the Chautauqua fund.

Ruby Willard is at home from Gorham Normal School for the Easter vacation. Mrs. Louise Willard and Ruby were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Thelma Farnum is sick with the grip.

WILSON'S MILLS

Two Weeks for Vacation—Leon Bennett in Boston—Loggers Waiting for Drive to Start.

School closed March 26th, for a two weeks' vacation. Mr. Ingraham has gone to his home in Bangor and Mrs. Lincell is stopping at Claude Linnell's.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Linnell took their baby to Berlin last Saturday to consult a physician as she has been sick several times this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bennett and son, Russell, are visiting relatives in Boston and vicinity.

S. W. Bennet has gone to Errol.

Several families are still afflicted with severe colds and the grip.

Easter Sunday brought us about 6 inches of wet snow and a high wind.

The loggers are all out of the woods and there are many men waiting for the drive to start.

MASON

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. MacKenzie were called to South Paris, Tuesday, March 30th by the death of their granddaughter, Olie G. Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Stanley.

The flu is quite prevalent at this writing reducing the membership of the school about one-half. Those ill now are Mrs. Myron Morrill, Mrs. Ernest Morrill, Mrs. Guy Morrill and Mrs. Eli Grover and children.

Mrs. W. M. Kierstead is assisting with the housework at Myron Morrill's.

Eli Grover worked in the mill at West Bethel a few days last week.

NEWRY

Charles Robertson and H. R. Powers are hauling material to Bethel for the bridge crew. They expect to go there to work soon.

Chas. Frost called at W. N. Powers', Sunday.

Irving French went to Portland last Monday as delegate to the Republican convention held there.

There was no grange last Saturday evening.

There was 12 inches of snow fell Saturday night.

Oxford County United Parish

The pleasant evening enjoyed by the young people at the Flat was followed, on Thursday, by a social held by the younger set at North Waterford. Several new and old games suggested by the committee were enjoyed by those present and it is needless to say that the eats were not passed by without the usual enjoyment. It was a jolly evening.

On Friday evening the vestry at North Waterford was again opened. This time it was for a good Friday service which brought home to the group gathered there by song and reading and meditation something of the meaning of the cross.

Sunday morning's heavy blanket of snow could not dampen the Easter spirit in the United Parish. We believe the first meeting of the day was the sunrise meeting at North Waterford. This was led by Ruth Holt, and it was a meeting that was good to attend. It hardly began at sunrise, but it was not until during the meeting that the sun broke through the clouds. The bright sunshine of the morning and afternoon was reflected in the faces and songs of the boys and girls who took part in the concerts at Waterford, North Waterford and East Stoneham. Surely these young people by the songs and "pieces" and their happy smiles made the day brighter and brought a message of Easter joy to each of the congregations.

Much credit is due the children for the excellence of their work and also to those in the different places who had charge of the concerts. They all helped to make a happy day still more happy.

WELCHVILLE

"Country School" at Wlechville Grange—Won Prize at Whist Partv.

The Oxford Grange will present "The Country School" at the Welchville grange hall, Friday evening, April 9th. A dance will follow.

Miss Elsie Yeaton spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Yeaton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Glover have returned to their home in Oxford.

There was a whist party at the grange hall, Wednesday evening, March 31. A large crowd attended. The first prize for the ladies was won by Miss Theo Daniels. Harry Noyes won the first prize for the gentlemen and the consolation prizes were won by Miss Elizabeth Hanaford and Edmund Daniels.

Miss Ada Glover spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Glover.

A PLEA TO "OLD WINTER"

"Old Winter," why don't you go?
We are tired of lugging wood,
And of wearing tippet and hood;
The coal bin is getting low;
"Old Winter," why don't you go?

"Old Winter," why don't you go?
You've hung around long enough,
We're tired of your line of stuff,
And of cold North winds that blow;
"Old Winter," why don't you go?

"Old Winter," why don't you go?
We're tired of slush and sleet;
We prefer the "dust and heat";
We don't want any more snow!
"Old Winter," please won't you go?

Do you know that 60 per cent of the portable "fireproof" safes in the Baltimore, Chicago and Boston fires were a total loss, together with their contents, while not a single safe deposit vault was seriously injured?

THE SAFE DEPOSIT BOX is the place for your documents and other valuables.

Captain Sampson's Opinion

Ice will go out of Lake Pennesseewassee the last week in April. It's time now for you to look over your Fishing Tackle and see what you need. If you need anything, remember that the best place to get it is at Stone's. We have just received a large stock of Lines, Rods, Reels, Flies, Baits, Hooks, etc., enough to gladden the heart of any fisherman. Come early, it's now on display.

A SAMPSON STEEL ROD!

will be given the person guessing the nearest time the ice goes out of Pennesseewassee Lake. Guesses close 10 P. M., Apr. 17th. Come in and guess—it costs you nothing. Capt. Sampson decides the day, hour, and minute that the ice goes out. Remember and come early!
